At Nebraska, Every Day is GameDay!

Today, the University of Nebraska takes center stage in the world of college football. ESPN's cult-like followers woke up with Chris Fowler telling them "Good morning from Lincoln, Nebraska!" And they will go to bed after ABC's Brent Musburger tells them "good night" from the same place.

Quite honestly, at Nebraska, every day is GameDay! It is an honor to host the top-ranked Trojans of USC, who know what it's like to live in the shadows of Hollywood and all the bright lights that come with it.

As your chancellor and athletic director, we know our university's athletic programs and student-athletes have earned the honor of that kind of national attention.

Being at the epicenter today is the result of our players and coaches living up to a Midwest work ethic and high ideals that are unsurpassed in college athletics. At Nebraska, our student-athletes can and do achieve big dreams when they develop the discipline and tenacity needed to go beyond a previous personal best, whether in the classroom or on the field of play.

Nebraska athletics is about dedication, resiliency and a relentless pursuit of excellence. In academics and in athletics, we always strive to be the best. Our tradition is based on those qualities. Nebraska has won 23 national championships, sold out 284 consecutive football games and owns the best record in college football since 1970.

We are proud that our student-athletes earn degrees from one of the top 50 public universities in the nation. We are even prouder that we have an NCAA-best 252 Academic All-Americans, a nation-leading 15 NCAA Top Eight Awards for post-graduate scholar-athletes and 33 NCAA post-graduate scholarship winners in football.

Fullback Dane Todd, a Lincoln native, was a 2007 Walter Byers award winner, the NCAA's highest academic honor. This fall, Dane traded his shoulder pads for a scalpel and is attending medical school at Emory University in Atlanta.

Then there is Sarah Pavan, the National Player of the Year on our 2006 NCAA championship volleyball team. Sarah came to Nebraska from Kitchener, Ontario, Canada. Last spring, shortly after visiting the White House and shaking the President's hand, she won the highest individual honor for a female collegiate scholar athlete – the 2007 Honda-Broderick Cup. She was featured in a full-page ad – by herself – in USA Today.

Sarah is still attending classes at Nebraska, earning a 4.0 grade-point average in biochemistry. That means she has a lot more perfect marks coming her way, not to mention the kills that will rain down from her powerful left arm as a key player on our top-ranked volleyball team.

For Sarah and 519 other Husker student-athletes, imagine the pride in being able to say: "I play for Nebraska." Imagine the thrill of being able to come out of the Tunnel Walk tonight.

It's GameDay, so from one traditional power to another . . . welcome USC!

Inscribed on Memorial Stadium's West entrance are the words, "Not the victory but the action; Not the goal but the game; In the deed the glory." Although those words were first carved into our stadium in 1923, they are even more powerfully true today as a summary of what defines Nebraska's athletes, students and fans.

Our wish for you, win or lose, is simply this: Now that you've been here, we hope you understand what we mean when we say "There is no place like Nebraska!"

Dedicated to Excellence

• Academic Leadership

Chartered in 1869, the University of Nebraska was the first institution west of the Mississippi River to grant the Ph.D. in 1896.

• Distinguished Alumni

NU alumni include literary naturalist Loren Eiseley, geneticist George Beadle, artists Aaron Douglas and Weldon Kees, social researcher Alvin Johnson, investor Warren Buffett, comedian Johnny Carson, diva Barbara Hendricks, artist and engineer Harold Edgerton, soldier John J. Pershing and authors Willa Cather and Mari Sandoz.

• Global Research

University of Nebraska scientists are studying climate change in Antarctica and HIV in Zambia – conducting research from A to Z and everything in-between.

• Poet Laureate

NU English Professor Ted Kooser is The U.S. Poet Laureate Emeritus, serving from 2004 to 2006.

• World-Class Art

Nebraska's Sheldon Memorial Art Gallery and Sculpture Garden has one of the most important collections of American art in the U.S., with a permanent collection of more than 12,000 objects and works by Edward Hopper, Andy Warhol, Jackson Pollock, Mary Cassatt and Georgia O'Keeffe.

• 23 National Championships

NU has won eight in men's gymnastics, five in football, four in women's bowling, three in women's track and field and three in volleyball.

• Fourth All-Time with 805 Wins

Nebraska trails only Michigan (860), Notre Dame (821) and Texas (811) on the all-time wins list. The Huskers are college football's winningest program since 1970 with 371 victories – 31 more than second-place Ohio State.

• NCAA-Record 284 Consecutive Sellouts

Memorial Stadium has been sold out for every game since 1962.

• 44 All-Time Bowl Appearances

Nebraska ranks fifth in NCAA history for all-time bowl berths.

• Nation-leading 15 NCAA Top Eight Awards

Our total includes an NCAA-best nine in football, three in volleyball, two in men's gymnastics and one in women's gymnastics.

• NCAA-best 252 Academic All-Americans

NU leads the nation, including 67 first-team academic All-Americans in football alone. Notre Dame is second overall with 193, while M.I.T. (134), Penn State (127) and Augustana, Ill. (118) round out the top five.

Huskers, Trojans Clash in Prime Time

By Kelli Kremlacek, NU Media Relations

The undefeated Nebraska football team steps through the gates of the Tunnel Walk tonight with the hope of leaving this victory-steeped stadium and walking into Husker history. Nebraska welcomes the top-ranked Southern California Trojans to Memorial Stadium for just the second time in program history in one of the biggest match-ups in college football this season. The Huskers and Trojans square off at 7 p.m. for an ABC primetime broadcast as the Husker Nation and the country anxiously wait to see if the mighty Big Red can dethrone the Men of Troy.

The Huskers enter this evening's contest after posting back-to-back non-conference wins to open the season. Nebraska used an outstanding offensive performance to dominate Nevada, 52-10, in the opening weekend, before turning to the Blackshirt defense for a solid 20-17 victory on the road at Wake Forest last weekend.

Now back in Lincoln for a three-week homestand, the Huskers are looking for their first win over USC, with a potential victory holding the added bonus of taking down a Trojan squad that has won 46 of its last 49 games, including six consecutive non-conference road games.

USC will be taking the field on fresh legs tonight, as the Trojans enjoyed a bye week following their 38-10 season-opening victory over Idaho on Sept. 1 in Los Angeles. USC spread the ball out for 420 yards and five touchdowns against the Vandals, while holding Idaho to 253 yards.

The Trojans are led by the Pete Carroll, who enters today's game with an all-time record of 66-12. He has led USC to at least 11 wins each season for the past five years. Only three other teams - Nebraska, Oklahoma and Florida - can claim such a feat in NCAA history.

The remarkable nature of tonight's game wasn't lost on the rest of the nation. Not only is the contest broadcast in primetime on ABC, but Lincoln was also selected as the site for this week's ESPN College GameDay. The Husker Nation welcomes Chris Fowler, Lee Corso and Kirk Herbstreit to the Cornhusker state for the first time since 2001. Nebraska is 5-0 in the previous times GameDay has been in attendance.

Giants of the Gridiron

Arguably two of the greatest programs in college football history will meet under the lights of Memorial Stadium tonight in front of the 284th sellout crowd of the greatest fans in college athletics. Over the last 30 years, Nebraska and USC have built reputations and trophy cases with unprecedented success and that tradition of excellence will be honored on both sides of the football tonight.

Since 1970, Nebraska and USC have combined for nine national titles between the programs, five for the Huskers and four for the Trojans. The two teams are also neck-and-neck in bowl appearances, with Nebraska owning 44 all-time and USC owning 45.

Offensive Explosion

If there is one word to describe Nebraska's offensive potential in 2007, it is explosive. That term has been thrown around by the local and national media already this season, after the Huskers roared into 2007 by posting 625 offensive yards during a 52-10

Nebraska halfback Marlon Lucky has rushed for 323 yards and four touchdowns in two contests this season. His 161.5 rushing yards per game leads the Big 12 and ranks fifth in the nation.

ESPN's GameDay

Making its sixth appearance in Lincoln since 1994 is ESPN's GameDay crew, featuring Chris Fowler, Lee Corso, Kirk Herbstreit and Desmond Howard. It has been a good thing for the Huskers when GameDay is at Memorial Stadium as NU is 5-0 all-time in those games.

On the Cover

Featured on the cover of tonight's game program are seniors Lance Brandenburg (No. 40) and Tierre Green (No. 30) along with Coach Bill Callahan and the Huskers as they took the field for the 2007 season opener against Nevada.

Tonight's Sponsor

The corporate sponsor of tonight's game is Alltel.

Today's Ticket

Nebraska football season tickets during the 2007 campaign will feature Memorial Stadium through the years. From its earliest days after opening in 1923 to its most recent design with one of the nation's top athletic facilities, Memorial Stadium has earned the right, as said by The Sporting News, to be called one of the "Cathedrals of College Football." Today's game ticket features the stadium circa 1950.

Series Information

Games: Southern California won the most recent matchup between the Trojans and Huskers, taking last year's contest by a 28-10 score in Los Angeles when quarterback John David Booty threw three touchdowns and notched 257 yards through the air on 25-of-36 passing.

The previous contest came 36 years earlier in 1970 when Nebraska and USC fought to a 21-21 tie in Los Angeles. The Trojans also defeated the Huskers, 31-21, in Lincoln in 1969 in the first contest between the teams.

On the Headset

... With Assistant Coach Randy Jordan

Q: How do you study game film to break down other team's defenses and help prepare the Huskers?

A: The biggest thing I'm trying to find is how their linebackers play. Are they down-hill players, because we like to run the power. The first thing I try to find out is 'Are they a near-shoulder team? Are they trying to spin to the ball?' Then I want to know if the linebackers and secondary guys are ones that like to strip the ball. Ball security is the key for me. Being a guy who is really big on protection, I like to find out who their favorite blitzers are and where they come from so I can give indicators to the running back who's in the game.

Q: How important is it for the running backs to be able to stay fresh into the fourth quarter?

A: It's huge. The biggest thing during the game that I'm always looking at with the particular running back in the game is how's he doing? Is he making the correct reads, is he running low or straight up, is he going as fast as he can through the hole? At the end of the game I want our guys to be fresh. With the depth we have, it allows us to do that.

Q: What advice do you give young backs about dealing with big-game atmospheres?

A: Here at Nebraska, every game really is big. I tell them to focus on the job and don't worry about anything else. I have a great formula that (Offensive Coordinator) Shawn Watson talks about, and it's 'The Formula of One.' Take one play at a time, one series at a time, one quarter at a time. When you do that, go just one play at a time, then when that play is over, it's over. Then the next play is the most important play you can make.

On Radio/TV

Every game during the 2007 season will be heard around the nation on the Husker Sports Network and Sirius Satellite radio. Fans in and around Memorial Stadium can get all the pregame news, live game action and postgame coverage here in Lincoln on 1400 AM KLIN, along with state affiliates 1110 AM KFAB and 880 AM KRVN.

Next week's game against Ball State will be seen on FSN pay per view and will kick off at 11:30 a.m.

Huskers.com

Husker fans all around the world can keep up with the latest information on their favorite team by checking the official website of Nebraska athletics, Huskers.com.

Fans can find complete roster and biographical information on all student-athletes and coaches, along with the latest statistics and historical content. Live in-game audio from the Husker Sports Network and live game stats are available right at your fingertips.

Up Next

After taking on USC tonight in one of the most anticipated non-conference games in the country, the Huskers make their final preparations for league play when they host Ball State next weekend at Memorial Stadium.

The first meeting between the Huskers and Cardinals will be Nebraska's 285th consecutive sellout of Memorial Stadium. Kickoff will be at 11:30 a.m. and the contest can be seen on FSN pay per view.

pounding of Nevada on Sept. 1. The Huskers added 373 yards against Wake Forest in a 20-17 win last weekend, giving Nebraska fans a reason to believe that 2007 could be an offensively powerful one for the Huskers.

Leading that charge after two games is junior I-back Marlon Lucky. Lucky wracked-up a nation-leading 233 yards on the ground against Nevada, and added 92 rushing yards against the Demon Deacons. Lucky has also proven to be a threat in the air, catching seven passes for 67 yards and one touchdown in just two games.

Hooking up with Lucky through the air is senior quarterback Sam Keller, who has deftly taken over the reins of the Husker offense in 2007. Keller has completed 38 passes in 66 attempts for 451 yards and two touchdowns this season, hitting 11 different receivers and leading Nebraska to back-to-back wins. Keller's most impressive performance this season came during Nebraska's first touchdown drive against Wake Forest. The 6-4, 230-pound quarterback seamlessly executed Nebraska's two-minute drill before the half, completing eight passes for 80 yards including a 25-yard touchdown strike to senior tight end Sean Hill.

One of the main reasons Keller has been able to perform so effectively is the Husker offensive line. The offensive frontmen have held back two tough defenses and kept Keller without a sack and with just one quarterback hurry all season, making Nebraska one of just four teams in the nation (Louisville, Rutgers and Virginia) not to allow a sack this year.

Back in Black

Just as the Nebraska offense made headlines for NU's win over Nevada, the Husker defense took center stage in last Saturday's victory over Wake Forest.

The Blackshirts held off an advancing Demon Deacon offense to give NU the win despite several close calls in the Red Zone. In fact, twice in the second half the Blackshirts stopped the Deacons from scoring a touchdown when inside the 10-yard line. In two games, the Husker defense has allowed just three touchdowns and given up fewer than 600 total yards, while forcing three turnovers.

Leading the attack is sophomore safety Larry Asante with 13 tackles, followed by senior linebacker Steve Octavien, who after two years on the injured list, has exploded for 11 tackles, including four tackles for loss to lead the team.

Top-Notch Kickers

Two games into the season, Husker fans and coaches alike still aren't certain who to call Nebraska's top kicker. But that's a good problem to have because it seems NU's primary three - place-kickers Adi Kunalic and Alex Henery, and punter Dan Titchener - are on a mission to keep the answer under wraps.

In two games, Kunalic and Henery have been near-perfect in the place-kicking game. Kunalic has booted seven kickoffs for touchbacks and owns a 46-yard field goal. Kunalic shares duties with redshirt freshman Henery, who is nine-for-nine in point-after attempts and two-for-two in field goal tries.

Not to be outdone on special teams, Titchener has been launching punts at a career-best pace for Nebraska this season, averaging 44.9 yards per attempt.

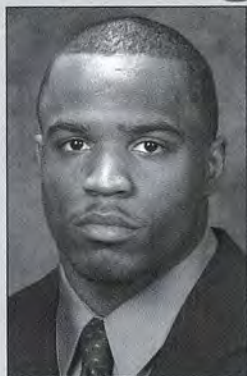

With so much success in its kicking game this season, who is Nebraska's top kicker is one question the Huskers may well be content to leave up in the air.

Quarterback Sam Keller helped Nebraska to a road victory last week by connecting on 24-of-41 pass attempts for 258 yards.

► Favorite tradition at Nebraska?

"Definitely the Blackshirts. By far. It just speaks for itself."

► If you could be on any reality TV show, which one would you join?

"I don't think I would want to be on one. I have heard they are part real and part fake."

► Who's your favorite player in the NFL?

"That is a hard one. I am a big fan of Darren Sharper. He is my favorite safety. Obviously, I follow Ahman (Green) close since he is my cousin. Terrell Owens. I am big fan regardless of what people say about him."

► What team do you enjoy playing against the most?

"I enjoy playing against Oklahoma, but I don't know if I really have a favorite. I just go out there and play."

"Miami Dolphins because I was always a big fan of Dan Marino."

► Favorite actor?

"Morgan Freeman."

► Favorite movie?

"Enter the Dragon."

► Favorite brand of clothing?

"It all depends on the occasion. Every day you are going to see me in shorts and sweats. I don't feel the need to dress up for school. If I go out, I will look good. My favorite brand is NYC."

What others are saying about No. 30 ...

"Even before I got here, he was the guy that was giving me the inside scoop. He's a great guy. Before I signed, he was teaching me the plays because he already knew I was going to commit. He's a real team player. He just leads by example. He's not the guy sitting and yapping his mouth. He helps me a lot. He reminds me constantly what my job is on the field so I don't forget it. He's a playmaker. He makes plays on the field."

– Larry Asante, Sophomore, S

"Tierre does a lot of things well out on the field. He is a fast guy and he knows what he is doing. He is a good cover guy. He is so fast. His speed is just remarkable."

– Terrence Nunn, Senior, WR

By Amil Anderson, Nebraska Media Relations

Tierre Green has plenty to brag about.

Green is set to complete his senior season as the starting safety for the Huskers in 2007, and in the process has earned his third Blackshirt. He finished the 2006 season with six games of five or more tackles, including a season-high seven tackles three times. He recorded a season-high seven tackles against fifth-ranked Texas and snagged his first career interception the following week against Oklahoma State.

An outsider could easily imagine Green as just another get-in-your-face defensive back with a big attitude, but Green is hardly that.

"I think I am just a more even-keel person," he said. "That is just my personality. I am just that way."

Green pondered his quiet charisma while nonchalantly giving interviews.

"Being a laid-back guy is just the way I am," he said. "You see me right now, leaning against the wall. That says a lot about the type of guy I am."

In fact, Green's personality may nearly be totally opposite of the norm. He is known by fellow Huskers as a leader by example, instead of being vocal. His laid-back style has made him into an unselfish player.

"I have never been the guy to get in your face and yell at you and all that type of stuff," Green said. "I kind of do what I do. I am more of a guy that picks and chooses when to make those statements."

Green, who wears number 30 for Nebraska, made his altruistic intentions known on day one.

"When I first came here, I actually wanted to wear number 23," he said. "They wanted to give me 30. I am a laid-back guy, so I just said okay."

Green has never been one to voice complaints, even as he has been moved to three different positions at NU. He began his career on offense at I-back and on special teams as a kick returner. He was switched to defense in 2005 and earned a starting nod at cornerback before sliding over to safety for the 2006 season.

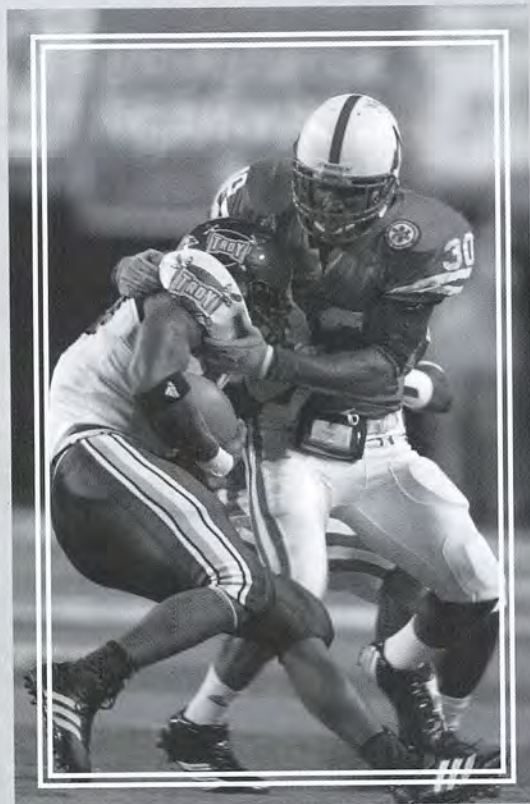

Green, true to his nature, turned the position journey into a positive.

"I definitely feel like, at times, I was a rolling stone, but I think it was a good thing," he said. "It helped me develop into a good player at my safety position. At running back you have to be tough because you get hit all the time. At corner you have to cover people. Those all translate well into being a safety."

Green's upbringing definitely helped shape his personality. Five women had major impacts in his childhood. Lisa Conway raised her only son with the help of Tierre's grandmother and his three older sisters also helped mold him into the man he is today.

"We fought a little, but I love my sisters," he said. "We count on each other. We have a really close bond. They helped raise me too. Without them I would not be here."

By Matt Smith, Nebraska Media Relations

Championship football is what Lance Brandenburg lives for and life is good for the senior linebacker from Overland Park, Kan. Brandenburg is determined to bring a championship back to Nebraska in his final season and he believes the 2007 Cornhuskers are taking the necessary steps toward that goal.

After all, championships are a major reason why he signed on to play at Nebraska following a standout prep career at St. Thomas Aquinas, where he was a two-time all-state selection.

"I was born here, and I wanted a chance to win a national championship, and I knew at Nebraska I would have that chance," Brandenburg said. "Hopefully, we can do that this year."

A national championship is the highest goal a team can aim to obtain and the Huskers have a great opportunity to take a huge step toward that goal tonight. Top-ranked USC rolls into red-clad Memorial Stadium for a nationally televised, prime-time showdown between two titans of the college football world.

Be sure that Brandenburg will be ready as championship-caliber teams tend to bring out the best in him. The last time a top-five squad came calling, Brandenburg responded with a career-high seven tackles in a narrow 22-20 loss to fifth-ranked Texas last season.

NU faces a stiff challenge this evening from the top-ranked Trojans, who have not lost a game in September since 2003, cruising to 11 straight victories in the month, routing opponents by an average score of 42-13.

The gaudy numbers, glamour and glitz that accompany the Men of Troy mean little to Brandenburg, who believes Nebraska is more than ready for the challenge than at any other time in his four-year career.

"I definitely like to think that this is the best team we've had since I've been here," he said. "We have a lot of good guys. We have a lot of talent, but we've still got to come out and play and execute."

Born in York, Neb., Brandenburg is familiar with Nebraska's championship tradition and is anxious to add his own mark.

He grew up idolizing Tommie Frazier and Cory Schlesinger, a duo that played key roles in leading the Huskers to back-to-back national titles in 1994 and 1995 – a feat since accomplished only by USC. A young Brandenburg watched as his cousin, Mike Heins, help lay the foundation for those championship teams as a defensive back for the Huskers from 1991 to 1993.

Brandenburg chose his No. 40 because Heins wore it during his career. While the cousins share a number, Brandenburg would love to have a national championship ring all his own, although he is committed to laying the groundwork for future championships, as Heins did.

One of four senior linebackers on this year's roster, Brandenburg has made it a priority to help the younger linebackers learn the ropes so NU can continue playing for championships beyond 2007.

While Brandenburg sees a bright future ahead, he still hasn't given up on winning it all this season. For him, his teammates and 85,000 screaming fans, that quest meets one of its biggest challenges tonight and Brandenburg is more than ready.

"The USC game is going to be the biggest game in all of our careers and all of our lives. I can't wait. I'm looking forward to it."

What others are saying about No. 26 ...

"Dan has gotten better every year. When I first got here, I never questioned his toughness. We had to make some gains in catching the ball, and he's worked extremely hard at that and gotten better at that, and his role has increased because of that. I'm putting him in more situations where not only is he blocking, but he has a chance to catch a ball or two."

– Ted Gilmore, Assistant Coach/WR

"Dan is one of the faster guys on the team. On special teams, we have a little battle and I know if I'm not down there to get a tackle, he will. It's competitive. We battle and go back and forth, it's a competition."

– Ben Eisenhart, Senior, S

By Tyler DeBoer, Nebraska Media Relations

Last month, Dan Erickson finally felt that four years of hard work had paid off. Literally.

Erickson, a redshirt senior wide receiver from Omaha, received a scholarship during fall camp after serving as a walk-on for the Nebraska program since the 2003 season.

"That was probably one of the best moments in my career here," Erickson said. "Coach (Callahan) came into a team meeting during camp and was introducing the seniors. He started introducing me, but then he said 'He's had a fantastic camp, and he's earned himself a scholarship.' There was no warning to it whatsoever."

Erickson has had to learn to live without warning on the field as well. In last year's 28-27 win at Texas A&M, Erickson played an unfamiliar role in the Huskers' final touchdown drive. Even being in the game in the final seconds caught him off-guard.

"I was very surprised just to even be in the game at that point," Erickson said. "The two-minute drill wasn't really something I was in on a lot during practice. But when Terrence (Nunn) needed a blow, the coaches decided to put me in."

Facing a second-and-10 with 57 seconds left, quarterback Zac Taylor fired a pass to Erickson, who made the crucial 16-yard catch that ultimately led to Taylor's touchdown pass to Maurice Purify that has made so many Husker highlight reels.

"The real shock was when I ran my route and turned around and I see Taylor coming with the ball to me," Erickson said. "It was only the second catch of my career, so I was real happy about that."

But Erickson is probably best known on the field for his blocking abilities, as he is arguably the Huskers' best blocking receiver.

"I take a lot of pride in that because that was my role for my first four years here," Erickson said. "Everyone's got their own role, and you've got to know it and just do it to the best of your ability."

Erickson realized that if he wanted to see time on the field, he would have to do the dirty work that most receivers rather wouldn't do, the work that goes unrecognized in the stat book. He views his successes blocking – like the block he made without a helmet against Wake Forest to spring Quentin Castille for an 18-yard gain – as just another part of the job.

"Hitting people is fun," he said. "It's the only time you get to do it."

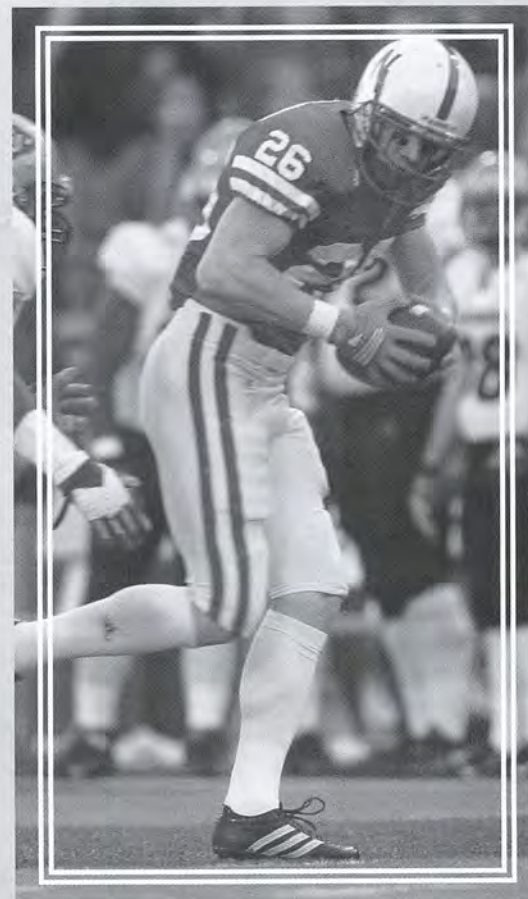

Playing football at Nebraska is familiar territory for him and his family. Dan's older brother, Mike, played offensive line at Nebraska from 2001 to 2004. They shared the same Husker passion that many kids growing up in Nebraska do.

"I was born and raised in Nebraska, so I guess you could say that I am one of those corn-fed beef boys, one of those die-hard Nebraska football fans," Erickson said.

For Erickson, it has been rewarding to come so far and finally earn a scholarship after investing four years of his life into a team he grew up idolizing.

"I don't regret any of it," he said.

Despite having several scholarship offers from other Big 12 schools, Tyler Kester decided to walk-on and fulfill his life-long dream of playing Nebraska football. But out of 37 freshmen on the roster, Kester was one of three small-town athletes to have never played 11-man football.

Although Kester celebrated a successful prep career at Clearwater High School in northeast Nebraska, his alma mater only offered Class D-2 eight-man football.

"It was crazy having maybe around a thousand people at the biggest playoff game in high school and then to come to this place," Kester said of joining the Nebraska squad and playing in front of more than 80,000 rabid fans each week.

Kester's small-town upbringing turned out to be a huge advantage. Since eight-man football is known for its "Iron Man" play – where players are required to play offense, defense and special teams – Kester was prepared to show off his work ethic.

"You see it where a lot of kids will come in and take a couple reps on scout team and they'll be off the field," Kester said. "I was used to eight-man where I played quarterback, linebacker, and I was a punter and a kicker and a punt returner and a kick returner. We would never step foot off the field and we'd keep working hard."

Once he graduates in May of 2008 with a degree in agricultural economics, Kester plans to continue utilizing his strong work ethic as he moves forward in life, taking on challenges both big and small and working hard through it all.

Getting to Know ...

No. 69 Jordan Picou*What others are saying about No. 69 ...

"Jordan's a great guy, a family guy. I always tell everyone that he's going to be a good father someday. He's as good as it gets. He's always positive and joking around – he's just a caring guy. When he puts the pads on, he gets down to business, but off the field, he's one of the nicest, caring guys you could meet."

– Lydon Murtha, Junior, OL

► What's with changing your hair every week?

"I'm a change-up guy. I like to do something different and stand out, so I always change my hair to keep my teammates on their toes."

► Favorite TV show?

"Fresh Prince of Bel-Air and SpongeBob Squarepants."

By Nate Rohr, Nebraska Media Relations

Jordan Picou is a vital part of the Husker offensive line this season despite playing in only three games in three years at Nebraska.

"Everyone thinks that the first-string guys are the only ones that can be leaders, but it doesn't matter what role you have," junior Lydon Murtha said. "He's one of the top leaders on the offensive line. If he's not with us doing our thing, he's with the young guys making sure they know what to do to get the job done."

Picou sees his role as a leader as his most important job for Nebraska this season.

"That's exactly what I think one of my main roles is for this offensive line," Picou said. "I tell the freshmen, 'Don't get discouraged. It's a complex offense. You're going to get it.'"

Picou has felt many of the same worries the younger Nebraska linemen have had the past few years, but knows that the challenge presented by the offense can be met through hard work.

"Before, everyone was moving so fast that I didn't know what I was doing," Picou said. "Now, it's really clicking for me. The game is slower for me. That has helped me out significantly."

Picou also realizes that while he must help the younger linemen in their transition to college football, he also must prepare to be called upon at any point to step in with the first-team offense.

"Look what happened last year with Kurt Mann going down and Bama (Brett Byford) stepping in," Picou said. "The opportunity is there when it happens. As soon as my opportunity is there, I'm going to take advantage of it and try to attack it as hard as I can."

Head Coach Bill Callahan

A championship coach at the collegiate and professional levels, Nebraska Head Coach Bill Callahan carries the responsibility of guiding one of college football's most storied programs.

Callahan's focus remains the same as the day he was hired in January of 2004, less than a year after guiding Oakland to the Super Bowl. He is striving to add to Nebraska's championship legacy on the Big 12 and national levels. At the same time, Callahan operates a program that places equal value on helping his student-athletes achieve in the classroom and developing skills needed for life after football.

During his first three years on the Husker sideline, Callahan's leadership has led to success in all areas for Nebraska. As the 2007 season begins with the disciplined and focused Callahan at the helm, it is easy to envision even greater accomplishments for the Huskers.

After finishing 2005 with three straight victories, Callahan's Huskers continued the momentum throughout the 2006 campaign. Nebraska swept the Big 12 North Division and earned a spot in the conference championship game for the first time since 1999 before receiving a bid to the Cotton Bowl. The Huskers also earned three Big 12 road victories and extended their streak of wins in November to five straight while posting the most points and total yards in a season since 2001.

The Huskers made great strides on offense in their third year under Callahan. Nebraska was one of three schools nationally to rank in the top 25 in rushing offense, passing offense, total offense and scoring offense. In the off-season, Callahan made an improved running attack a priority, and the Huskers responded by averaging better than 170 yards per game on the ground. Nebraska's passing attack continued to click with efficiency. Senior quarterback Zac Taylor established school records with 3,197 yards passing and 26 touchdowns through the air. In the process, Taylor was recognized as the Big 12 Offensive Player of the Year. On the defensive side of the ball, Nebraska ranked in the top 25 nationally in scoring defense and senior defensive end Adam Carriker was named Big 12 Defensive Lineman of the Year.

This past off-season, Callahan and his championship staff again produced a strong recruiting haul. The 2007 recruiting class was ranked among the top dozen in the nation by several recruiting services, and addressed key areas of need for the Huskers. While maintaining a commitment to keeping homegrown talent in Nebraska, Callahan and his staff also showed their ability to lure players from throughout the United States to Lincoln. Nebraska inked seven players from the state of Texas, the Huskers' largest recruiting haul from that state in two decades. NU signed five players from Arizona, the most ever in one year at Nebraska, and added four Californians, continuing Nebraska's recent recruiting success in the Golden State.

The off-season momentum continued through the end of spring camp, as the recent tradition of large spring game crowds continued in 2007. More than 54,000 fans converged on Memorial Stadium in April, giving Nebraska a total of 236,000 fans who have attended the Red-White game in the past four seasons.

The continued development of the Nebraska program was also evident in the NFL Draft. Carriker was the 13th overall selection, Nebraska's highest pick since 1998, while three other Huskers were taken in the first 104 picks of the draft. Included in that group was back Brandon Jackson, who was tabbed 63rd overall by Green Bay, the highest drafted Husker offensive player since 2002.

Nebraska fans began to see the fruits of Callahan's detailed plan for success for the Husker program in 2005. Nebraska closed the regular season with victories over North Division rivals Kansas State and Colorado before knocking off a talented Michigan squad in the MasterCard Alamo Bowl. True to the hard-nosed attitude of their head coach, the Huskers rallied from a 10-point fourth-quarter deficit to post a 32-28 victory over the Wolverines.

Nebraska's 8-4 mark in 2005 came behind a determined defensive effort and increased familiarity with the West Coast Offense. The Husker special teams also gained national recognition with their marked improvement.

The Blackshirt defense recorded a nation-leading 50 sacks, the second-highest single-season total in school history. On offense, the Huskers posted a then-single-season record 2,692 passing yards, with three receivers topping 40 catches, underscoring the diversity of Callahan's offensive attack.

As a member of an elite fraternity of coaches who have led their team to a Super Bowl, Callahan's on-field coaching credentials are evident. However, since becoming the Huskers' head man, Callahan has shown all the needed qualities to develop a successful program at the collegiate level.

Under Callahan, the Huskers are continuing to build on their tradition of success in the classroom. Callahan's first three senior classes have been successful in reaching the No. 1 objective of college student-athletes. At the conclusion of the 2007 spring semester, 53 of the 64 members of Callahan's first three senior classes had their undergraduate degrees. Four fifth-year Huskers played as graduate students in 2006, including 2007 senior tight end J.B. Phillips, who hopes to earn his master's degree by the spring of 2008. A remarkable number of 23 Husker seniors are on track to graduate by the end of the fall semester.

Callahan's Huskers have continued Nebraska's long-standing tradition of academic All-America honors. In 2006, fullback Dane Todd was a second-team ESPN the Magazine/CoSIDA Academic All-Americans, helping bring Nebraska's nation-leading total of football academic All-Americans to 90. A year earlier, both Todd and center Kurt Mann were first-team academic All-America picks as juniors.

Nebraska again led the Big 12 in academic all-conference selections in 2006, with 15 Huskers tabbed as first-team picks and another seven players chosen to the second team. In May, Nebraska was one of 34 schools recognized by the American Football Coaches Association for exemplary graduation rates.

Callahan is well-respected by his peers in the coaching profession, who value his voice on numerous issues affecting the game.

Under Callahan, the football program has stepped up its commitment to making a strong mark in the community. Husker players spend countless hours in local communities speaking with youth and visiting Nebraska fans of all ages. Under Callahan the entire Husker team has taken a half-day to visit with patients at hospitals in both Lincoln and Omaha on an annual basis. Callahan's strong belief in community outreach and character education led to his team receiving Nebraska's annual Life Skills Team Award in 2005. The football team has subsequently been a finalist for the coveted award in each of the past two seasons.

The commitment to being an active member of the community comes directly from Callahan's leadership. Shortly after being named Nebraska's head coach, Callahan established Coach Callahan Charities, Inc. The mission is to provide financial support to non-profits organized to fight breast cancer and diabetes, and provide services, support and hope to economically disadvantaged and at-risk youth and families. Past beneficiaries have included UNMC Eppler Cancer Center, Breast Cancer Foundation, Juvenile Diabetes

Research Association, UNL Libraries, Special Olympics, Red Cross, Fresh Start Home, Make-a-Wish, and City Impact's Backpack Buddies and Child Sponsorship programs.

Callahan and his staff presented the fourth annual Football 101 for Women in early June. The event has been a rousing success each year, drawing nearly 4,500 participants and raising approximately $190,000 for breast cancer research.

Coach Callahan Charities has presented the 5K Fun Run/Walk for Resources, and in its first three years, the event has drawn more than 1,700 combined participants and raised $30,000 for Juvenile Diabetes and the University Libraries. Coach Callahan Charities has also hosted the Coach Callahan Golf Classic the past two years, with proceeds benefitting the general fund for Coach Callahan Charities. All told, Coach Callahan Charities has raised more than $355,000 for charity in just over three years.

Callahan has also given his time as a guest speaker and spokesperson for several local organizations. He is the Honorary Chair of the Make-A-Wish Foundation's "Share our Magic Campaign", and has been the keynote speaker at the Omaha American Heart Association Breakfast, the Nebraska Special Olympics Breakfast of Champions and at the Big Brothers and Big Sisters of the Midlands.

The Husker football program under Callahan has placed a strong emphasis on developing the football talents of youth in the state of Nebraska. During the spring, the coaching staff and players conducted the Husker Youth Experience for the third straight year. The event is a free developmental clinic for 500 children from the state.

This summer the Husker coaching staff provided instruction to nearly 2,000 campers who attended the various sessions of the Big Red Football School. The camps again included the Husker Youth Camp for children ages 8 to 13. In its third year the camp drew more than 450 youth, an indication of the respect and trust Callahan and his coaching staff have earned with parents in the state of Nebraska. Callahan and his staff also presented the first Big Red Run-N-Gun camp, a 7-on-7 team passing camp designed to help the development of prep teams throughout the area.

The commitment to the youth and prep programs in the state is also evident in the Huskers' annual Spring Coaches Clinic. Callahan and his staff have opened up a weekend of spring practices to hundreds of coaches each of the past four years. Callahan has also used his vast coaching connections to enhance the coaches clinic. This year, 2006 NFL Coach of the Year Sean Payton of the New Orleans Saints was the keynote speaker. With his appearance this spring, Payton joined Tampa Bay Head Coach Jon Gruden and former NFL head coach Dick Vermeil as the lead speakers at the clinic the past three years. In addition, former Husker assistant Gene Huey, now of the Indianapolis Colts, returned to campus fresh off the Colts' Super Bowl win to take part in the 2007 Spring Coaches Clinic.

Callahan has also embraced the rich traditions of the Cornhusker program. At the top of that list is an on-going commitment to Nebraska's unparalleled walk-on program. Since his hiring, Callahan has rewarded 17 players who came to Nebraska as walk-ons with scholarships, including 13 native Nebraskans. Last season, fifth-year senior and Lincoln native Brandon Rignon, a special teams stalwart, earned a scholarship at the start of fall camp and shortly thereafter was chosen as one of three Husker team captains. Callahan hopes to continue to identify and develop the best in-state prospects and he has made that a priority by assigning a member of his coaching staff to every high school in the state.

The plan for a total football program that Callahan has implemented at Nebraska is the product of three decades of coaching experience and expertise. Having coached on every level during his career, Callahan is one of five coaches to take a collegiate head coaching job after previously guiding a team to the Super Bowl.

Callahan brought a wealth of experience to Nebraska from the National Football League and collegiate ranks. A natural leader, Callahan has also worked with young men at the beginning of their formative years, serving as a high school coach and teacher for two years.

A Chicago native, Callahan's arrival at Nebraska not only served as a return home to the Midwest, but also to his first love – college football. Callahan is in his 30th year of coaching, and his 19th at the college level, while also accumulating nine years experience in the National Football League and two seasons in high school coaching. Highly respected throughout the coaching ranks, Callahan used his ties to quickly assemble a championship coaching staff in Lincoln. The staff includes coaches who have won championships in seven major conferences.

The diverse background and strong ties to different areas of the country allowed Nebraska to attract a top-25 national recruiting class in 2004, despite Callahan being hired less than a month before National Signing Day. In their first full year together the staff showed its recruiting prowess, pulling together a group of players that was ranked No. 1 nationally by recruiting expert Tom Lemming. Each of Nebraska's past two classes have been ranked among the top 15 nationally.

Callahan came to Nebraska after two years as the head coach of the Oakland Raiders in 2002 and 2003. He led the Raiders to the AFC West title and Super Bowl XXXVII in 2002 to become the fourth rookie head coach to reach the Super Bowl. He led Oakland to an 11-5 regular-season record in his first year and went 4-12 in 2003, when the Raiders were hit hard by injuries.

With their Super Bowl appearance in 2002, the Raiders set an NFL record by appearing in Super Bowls in four different decades. In the process, Callahan became the third first-year Raiders head coach to lead the team to an AFC West title and into the conference championship game, joining Art Shell (1990) and John Madden (1969).

Callahan's rookie season as head coach confirmed his leadership qualities and coaching ability and highlighted the diversity of the West Coast offensive system Callahan teaches. For the first time in franchise history, the Raiders led the NFL in passing in 2002 (279.7 ypg), and also led the league in total offense (398.8 ypg) for just the second time. Callahan was recognized for his role in the success, as he was named the NFL Coach of the Year by the Touchdown Club of Columbus and the NFL Rookie Coach of the Year by Football Digest.

Callahan's Raiders operated out of the West Coast Offense and exploited opposing defenses with a multiple attack. In a three-season span, Oakland went from leading the NFL in rushing (2000) to placing first in the league in passing (2002). In 2002, the Raiders became the first team to win games in the same season while rushing at least 60 times (60 attempts on Dec. 28 vs. Kansas City, 24-0) and passing at least 60 times (65 attempts on Sept. 15 at Pittsburgh, 30-17).

The Raiders capped 2002 with an impressive run through the AFC playoffs. Oakland opened the postseason with a 30-10 victory over the New York Jets and captured the AFC crown with a 41-24 win over Tennessee, before losing to Tampa Bay in Super Bowl XXXVII.

Callahan joined the Raider organization in 1998, when Jon Gruden took over as head coach. Callahan served as Oakland's offensive coordinator for each of Gruden's four seasons as head coach, also tutoring the Raider tight ends in 1998 and the offensive line from 1999 to 2001.

Under Callahan, the Silver and Black offensive line allowed a team-record low 28 sacks in 2000, a mark that was bettered in 2001 with just 27 sacks allowed. In addition, the Raiders led the NFL in rushing in 2000, averaging 154.4 yards per game. The Raiders won the AFC West title in each of Callahan's final two seasons as offensive coordinator.

Callahan's offensive players at Oakland made regular Pro Bowl appearances. From 1999 to 2001, Raider offensive standouts earned eight Pro Bowl bids, while five Raiders, including four offensive standouts, were named to the Pro Bowl in Callahan's first season as head coach. Oakland quarterback Rich Gannon made four straight trips to Hawaii from 1999 to 2002. He was twice named the MVP of the Pro Bowl (2000, 2001) and also earned 2002 NFL regular-season MVP honors.

Before his six-year stint with Oakland, Callahan was an assistant for the Philadelphia Eagles under Head Coach Ray Rhodes. With Philadelphia, Callahan worked alongside Gruden, who was the Eagles' offensive coordinator. In Callahan's first two years, the Eagles ranked second in the NFC in rushing and made the playoffs both seasons. During that time, former Husker Irving Fryar made two Pro Bowl appearances.

Although he spent nearly a decade in the National Football League, Callahan had a strong college background upon his hiring at Nebraska. He spent 15 years in the college ranks from 1980 to 1994, including 12 seasons in the Big Ten at two strong academic institutions. He was regarded as one of the game's best offensive line mentors and developed a reputation as one of college football's top recruiters. Callahan was not only ranked as one of the top 10 recruiters in the country by Lemming in 1992, he was listed as one of the top 10 recruiters of all-time by Lemming in 2001, based on Lemming's recruiting ratings over 20 years.

Callahan began his collegiate career as a graduate assistant at Illinois under Mike White, who later coached the Raiders. Callahan was promoted to a full-time position in 1981, coaching the tight ends, and stayed at Illinois through 1986, coaching the offensive line, quarterbacks and special teams. The Illini participated in three bowl games, including a trip to the Rose Bowl following the 1983 season when they won the Big Ten with a perfect 9-0 league mark. During his time with the Illini, Callahan worked with fellow assistants Kevin Cosgrove and Shawn Watson, who now serve as Nebraska's coordinators.

After seven years at Illinois, Callahan coached the offensive line at Northern Arizona (1987, 1988) and served as offensive coordinator at Southern Illinois in 1989. He moved to a second Big Ten school, joining former Husker Barry Alvarez at Wisconsin in 1990 to coach the offensive line. Seven Badger offensive linemen earned All-Big Ten honors under Callahan, including center Cory Rayment, who was a consensus All-American in 1994.

The 1993 Wisconsin team captured the school's first conference title in 31 years, defeated UCLA in the Rose Bowl and finished sixth in the final AP poll. In Callahan's final year in Madison, the Badgers finished 8-3-1 and defeated Duke in the Hall of Fame Bowl, marking the first time in more than a decade that UW played in bowls in consecutive years. The Wisconsin staff Callahan served on also included Cosgrove and NU safeties coach Bill Busch, who was a Badger graduate assistant.

Callahan grew up on the south side of Chicago playing quarterback as a prepster at Mendel Catholic High School. He was a three-year starter at quarterback at NAIA Illinois Benedictine (now Benedictine University in Lisle, Ill.) from 1975 to 1977, earning honorable-mention All-America honors his last two seasons. He earned a bachelor of arts degree from Illinois Benedictine College in 1978, majoring in physical education. Callahan was inducted into his college's athletic Hall of Fame in 2005. Callahan began his coaching career in the prep ranks. He coached at Oak Lawn High School in 1978 and then moved to De La Salle in 1979, where he also served as an instructor.

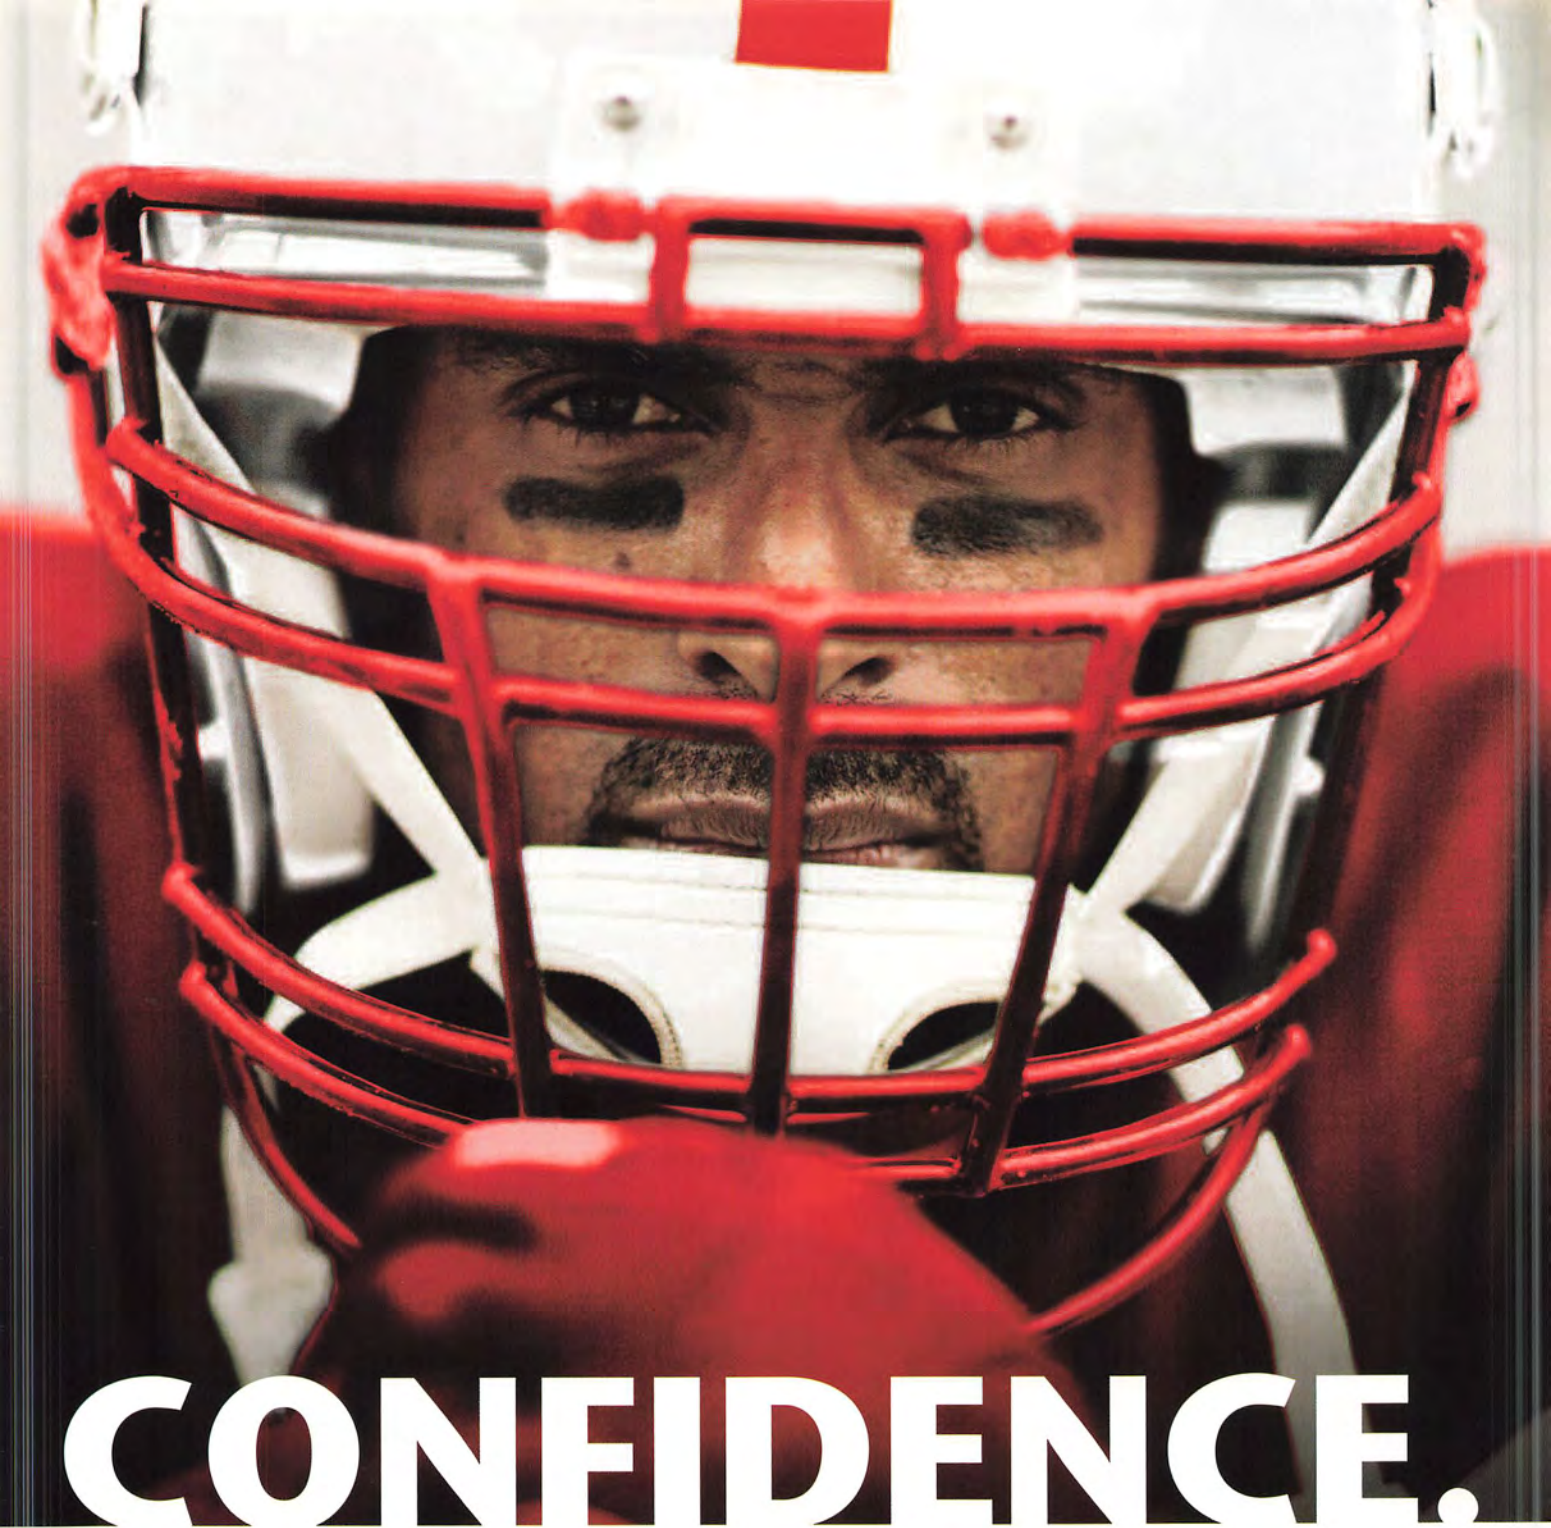

Callahan and his wife, Valerie, have four children, Brian, Daniel, Cathryn and Jaclyn. Brian was a member of the UCLA football team, and is now serving as a graduate assistant coach in the Bruin program. Daniel is in his fourth year of school at Nebraska.

Husker Assistant Coaches

Kevin Cosgrove
Defensive Coordinator/Linebackers

Kevin Cosgrove is in his fourth season as the Husker linebackers coach and 13th year as a defensive coordinator at the Division I level.

Cosgrove entered 2007 with one of the deepest linebacking corps in the nation, including 2006 first-team All-Big 12 selection Bo Ruud and 2005 second-team pick Corey McKeon. Cosgrove has had a first- or second-team All-Big 12 player each of his first three years at NU.

The Blackshirt defense boasted an impressive rise in the national rankings each of the past two years under Cosgrove. The Huskers have been in the top 25 nationally in scoring defense (24th in 2006, 25th in 2005) and pass efficiency defense (13th in 2006, 10th in 2005) each of the last two years, while posting top-40 national rankings each season in rushing defense. NU also ranked 11th nationally in rush defense in Cosgrove's first season in 2004.

Under Cosgrove's tutelage, Nebraska led the nation in sacks (50 total, 4.17 per game) and tackles for loss (10.33 per game) in 2005. The 50 sacks were the second-most ever by a Blackshirt defense, including a Big 12 Conference-leading 9.5 sacks by defensive end Adam Carriker while Barry Turner added an NU freshman-record six sacks before being named a freshman All-American. Carriker went on to be selected in the first round of the 2007 NFL Draft by the St. Louis Rams.

Before joining the Huskers, Cosgrove served under Barry Alvarez as defensive coordinator at Wisconsin for nine years. Cosgrove coached the Badger linebackers for 14 years overall (1990-2003) and spent 22 years coaching in the Big Ten.

Cosgrove helped Wisconsin to three Big Ten titles and nine bowl appearances (7-2 record), including three Rose Bowl wins.

Cosgrove also has worked at Illinois, Southeast Missouri State and Colorado State.

Shawn Watson
Offensive Coordinator/Quarterbacks

After tutoring the Husker tight ends last season, Shawn Watson took over the offensive coordinator duties in 2007. Watson now works with the quarterbacks, and will oversee the development of a new signal caller for the Huskers after last year's graduation of record-setting quarterback Zac Taylor.

Watson's promotion to offensive coordinator came as little surprise, as he had served as a Division I coordinator for six years prior to coming to Lincoln. He has 24 years of collegiate coaching experience, including a stint as the head coach at Southern Illinois from 1994 to 1996.

In 2006, Watson worked with a talented group of tight ends in his debut with the Huskers. Among his proteges during his first year at Nebraska was Matt Herian, who finished his career with a Nebraska tight end record for receptions (65) and reception yardage (1,243) and was fourth overall on the NU receptions chart (any position). Nebraska's foursome of tight ends in the regular rotation finished with an impressive 35 receptions for 336 yards and 10 touchdowns in their only season under Watson's guidance.

Watson came to Nebraska after seven seasons on the Colorado coaching staff, including the last six as the Buffs' offensive coordinator.

Previously Watson served on staff at Illinois from 1983 to 1986 before moving to Miami University in Oxford, Ohio, where he was an assistant coach for seven seasons. The impressive work Watson turned in at Miami led to him being named the head coach at his alma mater, Southern Illinois, where he compiled an 11-22 record and produced 20 all-league players.

Watson then took a position as the quarterbacks coach on Gary Barnett's Northwestern staff. After two seasons in Evanston, Watson followed Barnett to Colorado, beginning with the 1999 season. Watson was promoted to offensive coordinator before the 2000 campaign and held that position for six years.

Bill Busch
Safeties/Special Teams Coordinator

Bill Busch is in his fourth season on Coach Bill Callahan's staff and serves as the Husker safeties coach and special teams coordinator.

Busch's safeties recorded six of Nebraska's 12 interceptions in 2006. Under Busch's leadership, his safeties helped the Blackshirts rank 13th nationally in pass efficiency defense in 2006. Tierre Green returns for his third season as a starter in the defensive backfield after ranking fifth in tackles last year.

Busch also helped guide the 2005 Husker defense to an impressive No. 10 national pass efficiency defense ranking and the No. 2 ranking in the Big 12 Conference. The Huskers held six opponents to less than 200 yards passing and nine to one or fewer passing touchdowns in 2005.

Busch's expertise has also paid dividends for the Huskers on special teams. Over the past three seasons, the Huskers have blocked 15 kicks, including seven in 2005. Nebraska ranked in the top 25 nationally in net punting (24th in 2006) and punt returns (17th in 2005) under Busch during the past three years as well. NU's kickoff coverage unit ranked 15th nationally in 2006 after finishing 22nd the previous year.

Busch came to NU after spending three seasons at the University of Utah where he coached the safeties in 2001 and 2002 and the defensive backs in 2003.

Utah boasted one of the top defenses in the Mountain West Conference in 2003 to help the Utes to an impressive 10-2 record and their first outright conference title since 1957. Busch's secondary helped Utah to finish 27th nationally in pass efficiency defense. In 2001, Utah ranked 17th nationally in pass efficiency defense.

Busch also spent four years at New Mexico State where he coached the defensive backs. His first full-time coaching job was at Northern Arizona where he was the secondary coach in 1995 and 1996. Busch also served as the co-defensive coordinator in 1996.

Phil Elmassian
Cornerbacks

A veteran college assistant who has been a part of championships in four conferences, Phil Elmassian (pronounced ELL-MAY-shun) is a former defensive coordinator and has coached every defensive position except the line in his 33-year career. Elmassian is in his fourth season with the Nebraska program where he focuses on guiding the Husker cornerbacks.

Last year, Elmassian faced a challenge as returning starter Zack Bowman was lost for the season to injury during fall camp. Bowman's replacement, Andre Jones, ranked second on the team in tackles with 74 and was second with seven pass breakups. Jones trailed only his counterpart, Courtney Grixby, who recorded 11 breakups for the second year in a row. Entering his third season as a starter, Grixby begins his final chapter in Lincoln ranked sixth on the Nebraska career breakups chart with 25.

Grixby and Jones return in 2007 after helping Nebraska rank 13th nationally last season in pass efficiency defense, the second straight year the Huskers ranked in the top 15. The Blackshirts ended the 2005 campaign ranked 10th nationally.

Elmassian came to Nebraska from Purdue where he was the defensive backs coach in 2003. Purdue ranked 19th nationally in pass efficiency defense in his only season on the sideline and ranked 13th nationally in total defense (302.5 ypg).

A pair of former student-athletes – Lawyer Malloy at Washington and Jamar Fletcher at Wisconsin – earned first-team All-America honors under Elmassian, and along with Fabian Washington at Nebraska, were first-round selections in the NFL Draft under Elmassian.

Elmassian has experience at four Division I schools as a defensive coordinator, including West Virginia (2001), LSU (2000), Boston College (1996) and Virginia Tech (1993 to 1994). He has also made coaching stops at Wisconsin, Washington, Syracuse, Virginia Tech, Minnesota, East Carolina, William & Mary, Richmond, Ferrum College, Marshall, Virginia. Elmassian has helped four programs to conference championships and 18 bowl games in his career.

Ted Gilmore
Wide Receivers

Ted Gilmore will work with a talented corps of athletes in his third season as the Huskers' receivers coach. Gilmore is also in his first season as recruiting coordinator, a title he added during the offseason.

Gilmore's stable of capable pass catchers includes Terrence Nunn, who is just the second player in NU history – joining Heisman Trophy winner Johnny Rodgers – to post 100 career receptions. Nunn topped the 1,000-yard career mark in 2006 and entered 2007 ranked second in school history for receptions (101) and third in receiving yards (1,310).

Nate Swift also returns to play for Gilmore. In 2005, Swift set Nebraska freshman records for receptions (45) and receiving yardage (641). Last year as a sophomore, Swift became only the 14th player in school history to top the 1,000-yard receiving mark in a career.

Second-team All-Big 12 selection Maurice Purify was one of the league's top newcomers last year. He caught 34 passes for a team-high 630 yards and was one of four Huskers to make at least 30 receptions last season. Purify tied for fifth in the NU single-season record book with seven touchdown catches.

Nebraska receivers helped the Huskers post the first 3,000-yard passing season in school history in 2006. Gilmore's coaching ability was recognized with his selection to participate in the Expert Coaches Academy in June 2007.

Gilmore came to Nebraska after spending two seasons on the coaching staff at the University of Colorado, where its version of the West Coast Offense helped two receivers set school records. Before his stint in Boulder, Gilmore spent two years as wide receivers coach at Purdue, where he coached NCAA career receptions leader and consensus All-American Taylor Stubblefield.

Gilmore has also had assistant coaching stints at Houston, Kansas and his alma mater Wyoming, where he began his career as a graduate assistant. At Wyoming, Gilmore coached two-time All-American and Biletnikoff Award winner Marcus Harris.

Randy Jordan
Running Backs

Following a nine-year career in the NFL, Randy Jordan moved to the sideline and is now in his fourth season as the Huskers' running backs coach. Jordan began his coaching career as a special teams assistant with the Oakland Raiders, before following Coach Bill Callahan to Nebraska.

With the Huskers, Jordan oversaw a Nebraska committee of backs in 2006 that produced nearly 2,400 rushing yards and 26 rushing touchdowns in the powerful West Coast Offense. An improved effort on the ground helped NU move from 107th in 2005 to 23rd nationally in rushing offense in 2006.

Brandon Jackson led the way with 989 rushing yards with seven touchdowns before becoming a second-round pick of the Green Bay Packers, the highest drafted I-back from Nebraska since 1996.

Along with Jackson, three other Huskers benefited from Jordan's tutelage, including Marlon Lucky (728 yards and six touchdowns, 32 receptions), Cody Glenn (370 yards and eight touchdowns) and Kenny Wilson (335 yards and four touchdowns).

Jordan's creativity and enthusiasm has shaped the I-back position into a multiple-threat weapon. Jordan's backs combined for 73 receptions and four receiving touchdowns, helping NU rank 14th nationally in total offense last year.

A perfect example of the multi-dimensional player Jordan and the Huskers like to utilize, Cory Ross finished his career ranked ninth on the Huskers' all-time rushing chart with 2,743 yards. He also ranked sixth on the NU career chart with 71 receptions, including a position record with 43 catches in 2005. Ross is the only Husker in history to rank in the top 10 for both rushing yards and receptions.

Jordan owns nine years of NFL experience as a running back, playing in 122 career games from 1993 to 2002 with the Los Angeles Raiders and Jacksonville Jaguars. He was named the special teams captain for Callahan's 2002 Raider squad that reached Super Bowl XXXVII, and was a recipient of the NFL Unsung Hero Award and the Ed Block Courage Award in 2001.

Joe Rudolph
Tight Ends

Joe Rudolph became the newest member of the Husker coaching staff when Coach Bill Callahan named him tight ends coach in late February 2007. Rudolph came to the Huskers after spending the past three seasons at Ohio State.

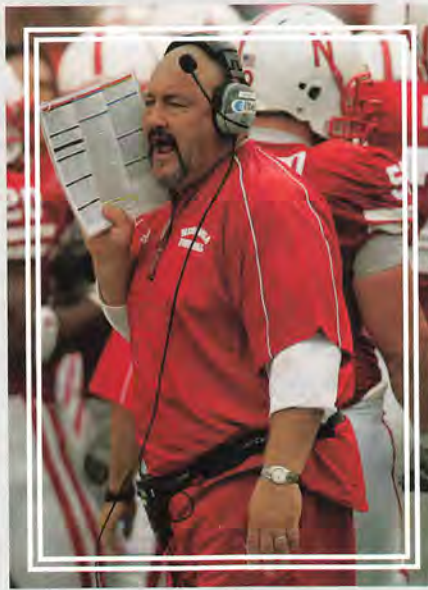

In 2006, Rudolph was a member of the Buckeyes' strength and conditioning staff, where he developed position-specific training programs for OSU's tight ends, offensive linemen and fullbacks. Prior to working as part of the Buckeyes' strength and conditioning unit, Rudolph spent two seasons on Coach Jim Tressel's staff as a graduate assistant with the Buckeye offense.

The Buckeyes had great success while Rudolph was part of the program. In 2006, Ohio State compiled a perfect 12-0 regular season before losing to Florida in the BCS National Championship Game. While serving as a graduate assistant, Rudolph helped OSU to a trip to the Alamo Bowl in 2004. He also assisted with the Ohio State offense in 2005, as the Buckeyes finished fourth nationally with a 10-2 record, including a victory over Notre Dame in the Tostitos Fiesta Bowl.

Rudolph played two seasons in the National Football League, earning a roster spot with the Philadelphia Eagles in 1995, before playing with the San Francisco 49ers in 1997. He played for the Eagles while Callahan was in charge of Philadelphia's offensive line.

Rudolph was a standout offensive lineman at Wisconsin in the early 1990s, earning three letters from 1992 to 1994, while playing for Coach Bill Callahan, who was the Badgers' offensive line coach at the time. Rudolph was a first-team All-Big Ten pick in 1993 and 1994. He helped the Badgers to a Big Ten title and a trip to the Rose Bowl in 1993, when UW finished with a 10-1-1 record.

Rudolph was a Badger team captain in 1994, aiding Wisconsin to an 8-3-1 record. A three-time academic all-conference pick, Rudolph was Wisconsin's Scholastic Award Winner in 1994 and played in the East-West Shrine Game and Senior Bowl following his senior season.

Dennis Wagner
Offensive Line

Dennis Wagner has continued the storied tradition of the Husker offensive line as Nebraska implemented the West Coast Offense the past three seasons. Along the way, Wagner has quickly gained a reputation as one of the top offensive line coaches in the country.

In 2006, Nebraska's line improvement and depth led to a resurgence on offense as the Huskers soared to 14th nationally in total offense while ranking 23rd in both passing offense and rushing offense. Sophomore tackle Matt Slauson earned second-team All-Big 12 honors for his play and was a preseason first-team all-league selection in 2007.

Nebraska lost two offensive linemen in the regular rotation from the 2006 campaign, but returned seven players in 2007 who started a game last season. After helping the Huskers to a record-setting passing season and resurgent running game last year, the impressive group of returnees has led some preseason publications to rank the Husker offensive line among the nation's top units.

Wagner came to Nebraska from Fresno State where he served as assistant head coach and offensive line coach for seven years. He quickly helped Fresno State's offensive line become one of the top units in the country as his O-line was ranked among the top 10 in 2002 by The Sporting News. Wagner helped Head Coach Pat Hill lead the Bulldogs to bowl games in each of Wagner's last five years.

Wagner was the head coach at Wayne (Neb.) State from 1989 to 1996, leading the Wildcats to a 44-37-1 record. He was named the Nebraska Coach of the Year by the Omaha World-Herald in 1990 and 1993. In his last four seasons at Wayne State, the Wildcats finished no lower than third nationally in total offense, leading the nation with 581.5 yards per game in 1993.

Wagner previously coached football for four seasons at St. Cloud (Minn.) State, one season at Luther College and two seasons UNLV. He was also the head track coach at William Penn College for a year and served as assistant strength coach for UNLV's PCAA and California Bowl championship team in 1984.

Buddy Wyatt
Defensive Line

A long-time assistant with coaching and recruiting ties to the Big 12, Big Ten and SEC, Buddy Wyatt was hired in December 2006 by Coach Bill Callahan to guide the Husker defensive line.

Wyatt jumped right into the fray as he assisted the Huskers during their preparations for the Cotton Bowl, where NU's starting defensive front four combined for 17 tackles, including three for loss and two sacks. This year Wyatt is working with a solid core of young talent that must replace four starters from last year.

In June of 2007, Wyatt was recognized when he was selected to participate in the Expert Coaches Academy, an NCAA program that addresses the critical shortage of ethnic minorities in head coaching positions in the sport of college football, primarily at the Division I level.

Wyatt came to the Huskers with 15 years of Division I coaching experience, including spending his previous four seasons as the defensive line coach at Alabama. During Wyatt's tenure in Tuscaloosa, the Crimson Tide ranked 18th nationally in total defense and 29th in scoring defense during the 2006 campaign.

A year earlier, the defense paced the Crimson Tide to a 10-2 record and a Cotton Bowl victory, ranking first nationally in scoring defense (10.7 ppg), second in total defense (255.1 ypg) and ninth against the run (94.3 ypg). Alabama also ranked second nationally in total defense (245.5 ypg) and was seventh in scoring defense in 2004.

Wyatt helped attract top-20 recruiting classes to Tuscaloosa in each of his last three campaigns, while focusing his recruiting efforts in the state of Florida.

In addition to his most recent stop at Alabama, Wyatt has five years of experience at Big 12 schools, including working as a defensive line coach at Oklahoma State, Colorado and Texas A&M.

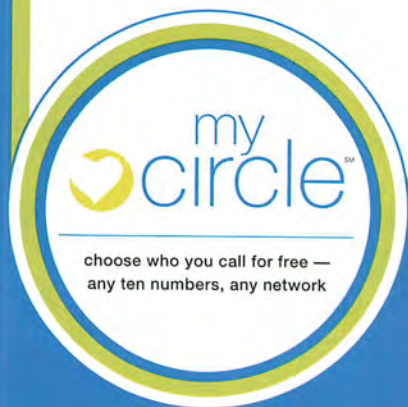

The first full-time coaching stop for Wyatt came at Minnesota under Coach Jim Wacker, who was Wyatt's college coach at TCU. After two seasons in the professional ranks, Wyatt returned to his alma mater as a graduate assistant during the 1991 campaign.

Dave Kennedy
Head Strength Coach

One of the nation's top strength and conditioning coaches, head strength and conditioning coach Dave Kennedy is in his fourth season as an integral member of the Nebraska football staff.

Kennedy's services greatly expanded last year with the addition of the new Tom and Nancy Osborne Athletic Complex at Memorial Stadium. Kennedy oversaw the massive transition of the strength staff in its move to a new weight room that houses the latest in technological advances to aid the Huskers' strength training and conditioning program. The strength facility is more than one and a half times the size of the previous strength center, which was universally recognized for years as the best in the country.

Kennedy has helped Nebraska continue its reputation as the preeminent strength and conditioning program in the nation. Under a watchful eye in the weight room, two Huskers earned first-team freshman All-America honors in 2005 while defensive end Adam Carriker was named the Big 12's Defensive Lineman of the Year as a senior in 2006, before being selected by the St. Louis Rams in the first round (13th pick) of the 2007 NFL Draft.

Kennedy got his start in the strength and conditioning field at Nebraska, where he earned his degree and trained under Boyd Epley. Kennedy served as a student assistant from 1982 until 1985 and was an assistant strength coach from 1985 to 1988.

Kennedy was hired as the head football strength coach at Ohio State in 1989. Kennedy's players produced 21 All-America awards while also winning the Heisman and Outland trophies. Seventeen of his Buckeyes went on to be first-round NFL Draft picks.

The Omaha native joined Head Coach Walt Harris' staff at Pittsburgh in 2002. At Pittsburgh, Kennedy helped wide receiver Larry Fitzgerald develop into a Heisman Trophy runner-up and the recipient of the 2003 Walter Camp and Biletnikoff awards.

Tim Cassidy
Associate A.D. for Football

Widely considered one of the top football administrators in the country, Tim Cassidy begins his fourth season as Associate Athletic Director for Football at Nebraska in 2007. Cassidy coordinates the Huskers' day-to-day football office organization while aiding Nebraska's recruiting efforts. He coordinates the travel, budget and staffing for the football office; assists with scheduling; oversees the compliance, strength training, equipment and academic support units regarding football issues; and supervises the football support staffs.

On Tom Lemming's list of the top 10 recruiters in the nation in 1999, Cassidy helped the Nebraska football program claim one of the top rankings in the nation by most analysts for the 2005 recruiting class. With Cassidy's assistance, NU produced its third straight top-25 recruiting class in 2007.

Cassidy also assisted with the strategic planning of the new Tom and Nancy Osborne Athletic Complex, a $50 million complex on the North end of Memorial Stadium that opened in the summer of 2006.

Cassidy spent 19 years at Texas A&M, including serving as recruiting coordinator from 1989 to 2004, before returning to Nebraska. Cassidy played an integral role in the Aggies' campus expansion, as he aided in the development of the $28 million athletic and academic complex completed on the Texas A&M campus in 2003.

Cassidy was the director of recruiting and high school relations at the University of Florida (1987, 1988) and also has sideline experience coaching the receivers at Morningside College in Sioux City from 1981 to 1983. He was a graduate assistant football coach at Texas A&M in 1983 and 1984 and was named the Aggies' recruiting coordinator in 1985.

Cassidy received a bachelor's degree from Nebraska-Omaha in 1981 and earned his master's degree in 1984 from Texas A&M.

Keith Heckendorf
Graduate Assistant

Keith Heckendorf is in his second season as a graduate assistant with the Nebraska football team, assisting the offensive coaching staff and working extensively with the Husker kickers. Heckendorf was elevated to the position in January 2006 after spending the previous season as the Huskers' offensive video intern.

Before joining the Nebraska football program, Heckendorf had a standout collegiate career as a quarterback at St. Cloud State University (2000-03) where he was a two-time finalist (2002 and 2003) for the Harlon Hill Trophy, given annually to the top player in Division II, and was a consensus All-America pick each season. He owns career school records for passing yards (9,695), pass completions (761), completion percentage (58.2), touchdown passes (101) and total offensive yards (9,997).

Heckendorf also was a two-time College Division Academic All-America selection, a 2003 National Football Foundation/College Hall of Fame Scholar-Athlete and the Division II Men's Winner of the 2003 Woody Hayes Award.

Jon Osterhout
Graduate Assistant

After joining the Huskers as a graduate assistant in January 2006, Jon Osterhout is in his second season on the NU staff where he works primarily with the defensive line.

Osterhout came to the Huskers with significant collegiate coaching experience after spending six seasons on the staff at Division I-AA Sacramento State. He served as the Hornets' defensive line coach four seasons, after coaching the tackles and tight ends two years. He also served as Sacramento State's camp director the last two years.

Osterhout enjoyed a standout playing career at Sacramento State (1995-99). A four-year starter on the offensive line, he was a first-team All-American as a senior.

Osterhout also served as a team captain for the Hornets and was voted the team's most inspirational player as a senior in addition to earning team MVP honors. He then signed a free agent contract with the Washington Redskins following his graduation from Sacramento State in 1999.

Husker Football Support Staff

Tim McFadden
Director of Program Development

On staff since April 2006, Tim McFadden serves as Director of Program Development for the Nebraska football program.

McFadden owns a wealth of administrative and leadership experience along with a solid background in football. He played a key role in the development and implementation of technology that is utilized by the Husker football team since its move to the Osborne Athletic Complex in 2006 and also oversees the leadership seminars for team members.

Vince Guinta
Assistant Director of Football Operations

Vince Guinta is in his fourth season with the Husker football program and serves as Nebraska's assistant director of football operations.

Guinta coordinates many aspects of the Huskers' recruiting efforts and assists with team personnel management. Guinta works closely with Associate A.D. for Football Tim Cassidy with in-house operations and is actively involved in Nebraska's Big Red Football School and coaching clinic. Guinta came to Nebraska after working in the University of Utah football office.

Wince Morris
Operations Assistant

Wince Morris is in his second year as an operations assistant with the Nebraska football team. Morris plays a large role in helping with team travel, including being part of the Huskers' advance travel group. He also plays a role in Nebraska's summer camps and assists with on-campus recruiting, among other duties.

Morris came to the Huskers after working nine years in private business in the Cincinnati, Ohio, area. Morris played football for the Miami (Ohio) RedHawks before earning a degree in political science in 1997.

Mark Mayer
Head Football Trainer

Mark Mayer joined the Nebraska staff as head football athletic trainer in May 2007. Mayer came to Nebraska with more than 12 years of experience in athletic medicine, including serving as an assistant athletic trainer for the Oakland Raiders for the previous nine years.

In 11 years with the Raiders, Mayer worked with Coach Bill Callahan and former Huskers Adam Treu, John Parrella, Eric Johnson and Fabian Washington as well as current NU assistant coach Randy Jordan.

Brian Lehmann
Director of Sports Nutrition

Brian Lehmann was hired as director of sports nutrition in June 2007. A Board Certified Specialist in Sport Dietetics and a Registered Dietitian via the American Dietetics Association, Lehmann came to Nebraska following six years of work at the University of Tennessee where he directed the sports nutrition services for more than 500 UT student-athletes.

Lehmann currently works with all of Nebraska's 23 varsity sports and assists student-athletes through comprehensive nutritional assessments.

Jay Terry
Equipment Manager

Jay Terry has been equipment manager at Nebraska since 2002 and has served on the Nebraska athletic department equipment staff since 1998.

Terry maintains the Husker football locker room and is in charge of the football team's equipment needs. He coordinates the transportation of all football and support equipment to road games, and oversees NU's equipment staff of two full-time employees and several student workers who handle all 23 of Nebraska's sports, and the Husker football student managers.

Dusty Alves
Video Coordinator

Dusty Alves is in his first season at Nebraska, but boasts a plethora of video experience at both the collegiate and professional ranks. Before arriving in Lincoln, Alves spent eight seasons in NFL video departments and six years at Big 12 foe Colorado.

Matt Schilling
Assistant Video Coordinator

Matt Schilling joined the football staff in July of 2006 when he was named assistant video coordinator. Schilling assists in providing all video needs for the Husker football coaching staff, including film exchange and breakdown of daily practice and game footage.

Nick Holz
Video Intern

Nick Holz joined Nebraska as an intern in 2007 after completing his playing career at Colorado, where he appeared in every game from 2004 to 2006. He will assist with offensive video needs while working with the Nebraska staff.

Joey Boese
Video Intern

Joey Boese works on video needs primarily for the defensive staff at Nebraska. He earned a communications degree from Wisconsin in 2002, and then played four seasons in the CFL before serving one season as the secondary coach at Emporia State.

Don't let the parade pass you by.

Do you have what it takes?

The only way to find out if you have what it takes to be a part of the UNL Band program is to audition. In many cases, you don't have to be a music major to be in the band. Audition dates for the Wind Ensemble, Symphonic Band, Campus Band, Big Red Express, Jazz Ensemble I & II, and the Cornhusker Marching Band are right around the corner. Schedule your audition and join the fun.

Wind Ensemble: There are no membership restrictions based on degree program. The fall semester auditions are scheduled for the first week of classes.

Symphonic Band: As with the Wind Ensemble, membership is determined by a juried audition that takes place during the first week of classes in the fall, and again in December.

Campus Bands: Camps Band Section 001 meets Tuesdays while Section 002 meets Thursdays. Both bands perform on a single concert and no audition is required. Just register for the class.

Big Red Express: Candidates for the Big Red Express will audition during the first week of classes in August.

Cornhusker Marching Band: Candidates for the woodwind, brass and percussion sections must complete a two-part audition process. Marching Band auditions will begin in April.

Jazz Ensembles I and II: Membership in Jazz Ensemble I and Jazz Ensemble II is determined by audition each semester. Music majors, as well as non-majors, are encouraged to try out. Auditions are scheduled for the first week of classes.

Detailed information about auditioning can be found at www.unl.edu/band, or call the Band Office at 402/472-2505.

Osborne Athletic Complex

The Tom and Nancy Osborne Athletic Complex is the new home of Nebraska Football at the north end of Memorial Stadium.

The new Nebraska Strength Complex is used by all of NU's nearly 600 student-athletes. Approximately 50 percent larger than the previous weight room located in the West Stadium, the Strength Complex is just steps away from the Nebraska football locker room and the Athletic Medicine Center. An area where athletes can grab a nutritional drink, relax after a workout or check their e-mail sits just outside the Strength Complex and adjacent to the Hawks Championship Center and football locker room.

In addition to housing the Huskers' football locker room, Strength Complex and Athletic Medicine areas, the building is the football coaches offices and Nebraska's athletic administrative areas. Visitors are greeted by a stunning 40-foot waterfall, an impressive and sophisticated donor wall and the entrance to the Charles and Romona Myers Performance Center.

Hawks Championship Center

Nebraska's Hawks Championship Center opened for the football team during bowl practice in 2005. The magnificent facility features FieldTurf identical to Memorial Stadium's surface. The field also opens onto the grass practice fields of the Ed and Joyanne Gass Practice Facility. The indoor center is connected by a skybridge to the Tom and Nancy Osborne Athletic Complex to give Nebraska the best all-around football facilities in the nation.

This is Nebraska Football

Since the 1960s, Nebraska football has been associated with one thing: winning. Five national titles. Three Heisman Trophy winners. An NCAA-record streak of 282 consecutive sellouts at Memorial Stadium. A collegiate-record 35 straight bowl berths between 1969 and 2003. And a nation-leading 252 academic All-Americans across all sports. Those numbers are mind-boggling for most, but to fans around the state, country and world, it's just part of being Nebraska Cornhuskers.

Nebraska football is much more than talented athletes and coaches taking the field to play a game – it is a family. The fans, support staff and student-athletes are all Dedicated to Excellence, and it is this commitment on and off the field that makes Nebraska unique and assures that the rich tradition of the Huskers will keep growing for years to come.

Reaching the pinnacle of college athletics is not an easy process, but the Huskers rely on three basic principles to continue their success: Tradition. Teamwork. Integrity.

From the Huskers' Lucky Horseshoe to the Tunnel Walk to the release of balloons after the Huskers' first score, Nebraska football is full of old and new traditions that make seeing a game in Memorial Stadium a truly memorable experience.

One of the most revered traditions in Nebraska lore is that of the Blackshirts.

The tradition began the week of Sept. 26, 1964, quite by chance. The NCAA had approved the return of two-platoon football and Bob Devaney and his staff members were preparing to play Minnesota at Minneapolis. During a mid-week staff meeting, the Husker squad was divided into offensive and defensive players, color-coding the offensive and defensive units by jersey. Backfield coach Mike Corgan was the coach assigned to work with equipment manager Floyd Bortoff and they secured pullover practice jerseys from a local sporting goods dealer.

By random selection, the first-team offense retained red jerseys, while the second offense wore green; first-team defense wore black and the second defensive unit wore gold. Soon after media members heard defensive line coach George Kelly and the other coaches yelling, "C'mon Blackshirts" or "Let's go Blackshirts" at practice. The first official recognition of the nickname came in the 1965 football media guide.

Husker Traditions: Tunnel Walk

The Tunnel Walk, which began in 1994, has become an integral part of Memorial Stadium's game-day experience. It was created as a way for fans to share in the excitement of the team first emerging from the locker room, something only a limited number could do without the help of HuskerVision cameras and the stadium's big screens – the first of their kind at a facility used solely for college football.

Prior to the Tunnel Walk, with its HuskerVision images and the sounds of the Alan Parsons Project instrumental "Sirius," the cheering didn't begin until the Cornhuskers arrived in the southwest corner of the stadium. Now it begins as soon as they come through the double doors just outside of the locker room.

The experience is as emotional for those who make the walk, the players and coaches, as it is for those who watch and applaud it. "Coming down that tunnel for the first time, it's chilling. It's absolutely chilling," Coach Bill Callahan said of his first Tunnel Walk before the 2004 Spring Game.

The Huskers' nationally acclaimed weight room and support system – along with some of the finest coaches ever to work a college sideline – have played a major role in Nebraska's dominating success, but another large part of the Nebraska 'team' is the fans.

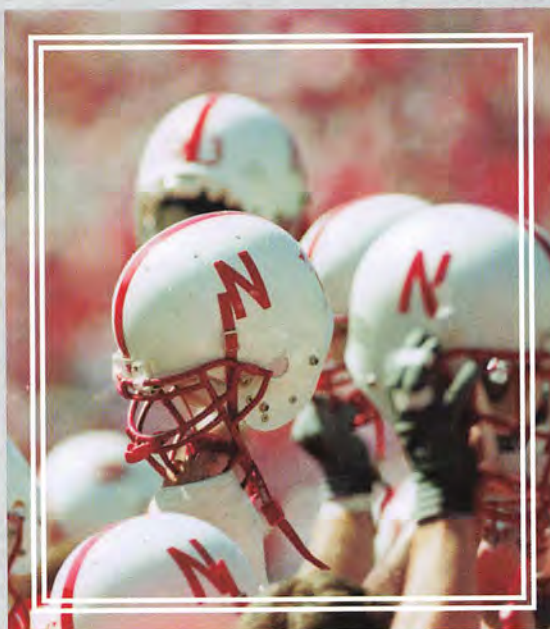

The fan support the Huskers receive has helped Nebraska to a winning home record every year since 1969, including 25 seasons with at least six home victories. That strong home support helped Nebraska post at least nine wins in an NCAA-record 33 consecutive seasons from 1969 to 2001, 19 years longer than second-place Florida State. Overall, Nebraska owns 803 all-time victories to rank fourth in NCAA history.

The Huskers are among the elite programs in the country and few things prove that claim more than NU's run in the postseason. Nebraska is fifth nationally in all-time bowl appearances with 44 and played in an NCAA-record 17 straight Jan. 1 or 2 bowl games between 1982 and 1998. Nebraska has played a team ranked in the top three in the national polls 10 times in its past 18 bowl games.

Nebraska's bowl success has helped it to five national titles, including twice earning back-to-back titles. The Huskers became just the second team in college football history to win consecutive titles with perfect records when they won the 1994 (13-0) and 1995 (13-0) championships. NU added a third national title in 1997 to also become one of only two teams to win at least a share of the championship three times in four years. In total, the Huskers have played for the national title five times since 1992.

Aiding the unprecedented run has been a number of outstanding individuals who have contributed to the Husker legacy. Over the years, Nebraska players have accounted for three Heisman Trophies, eight Outland Trophies, four Lombardi Awards and three Walter Camp Awards. Huskers have also picked up trophies for the Maxwell, Butkus, Johnny Unitas, Davey O'Brien and Rimington Awards. Over the years, 93 Huskers have earned 106 first-team All-America honors, including 43 consensus selections.

Away from the field, the Nebraska student-athletes have set the bar in academic excellence. Pushing the limits in the classroom, Huskers have accumulated a nation-leading 252 academic All-America awards in all sports, including 128 first-team certificates. The football team has had 54 players receive 66 first-team academic All-America honors. Fifteen Huskers have also received the Top Eight Award, the highest honor the NCAA can bestow on a student-athlete, including a nation-high nine in the 1990s. The football team is the most decorated program in the country with nine Top Eight selections.

Husker Traditions: Lucky Horseshoe

For as long as anyone can remember, the Huskers have tapped a lucky horseshoe on their way from the locker room to the field. The horseshoe previously hung above the double doors that open into the tunnel outside the South Stadium locker room from 1973 to 2005.

Before 1973, the horseshoe hung above a door near the locker room in Schulte Field House at the north end of the stadium, during Coach Bob Devaney's tenure and probably before. When the team moved to its new air-conditioned quarters, players persuaded Coach Tom Osborne to allow them to relocate the horseshoe. Captains John Dutton and Daryl White hoisted teammate Bob Thornton, who put the horseshoe in place.

Osborne, who had just succeeded Devaney as coach, agreed that the horseshoe should be moved. He wasn't superstitious, he said, but he figured the players didn't want UCLA, the opening-game opponent in 1973, to have the horseshoe's luck. The Cornhuskers won, 40-13.

With the opening of the Tom and Nancy Osborne Athletic Complex in 2006, the horseshoe moved back to the North end of the stadium. No matter where it has been located, Nebraska's remarkable success has had little to do with luck, of course. But a little good luck never hurt. The Cornhuskers' record at Memorial Stadium since 1973 is 198-25.

Some of the most rewarding moments happen on the sidelines.

It pretty much goes without saying that one of the most valuable elements of sports is dedication—to your game and to your team. That's why we're so inspired when it's mirrored by the fans. Whether it's a crowd of hundreds doing "The Wave" or a couple of parents holding a sign, this is the part of any game that hits home for us—people supporting people. In fact, it's exactly why at American Family, we're happy and proud to join the cheering section.

Nebraska's Heisman Trophy Winners

College football's most prestigious award, the Heisman Memorial Trophy, is presented annually to the nation's outstanding player. The trophy was originally presented in 1935 as the DAC Trophy by the Downtown Athletic Club of New York City. That year, the honor went to the best college football player east of the Mississippi River. In 1936, players across the country became eligible and the award was renamed the Heisman Memorial Trophy to honor former college coach and DAC athletic director John W. Heisman, who died that year.

Three Huskers – Johnny Rodgers in 1972, Mike Rozier in 1983 and Eric Crouch in 2001 – have had the honor of receiving the award, which is voted on by 1,050 voters selected across the country.

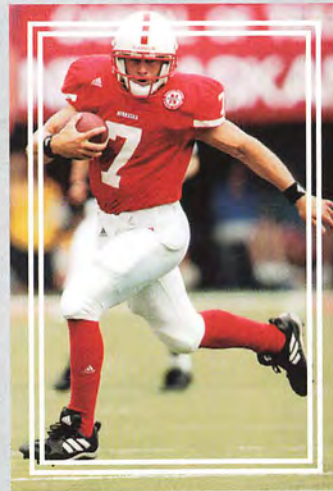

In addition to Rodgers, Rozier and Crouch, a pair of Huskers have also finished second in the balloting – Sam Francis in 1936 and Tommie Frazier in 1995 – while 11 other Huskers have placed in the top 10 in their respective years.

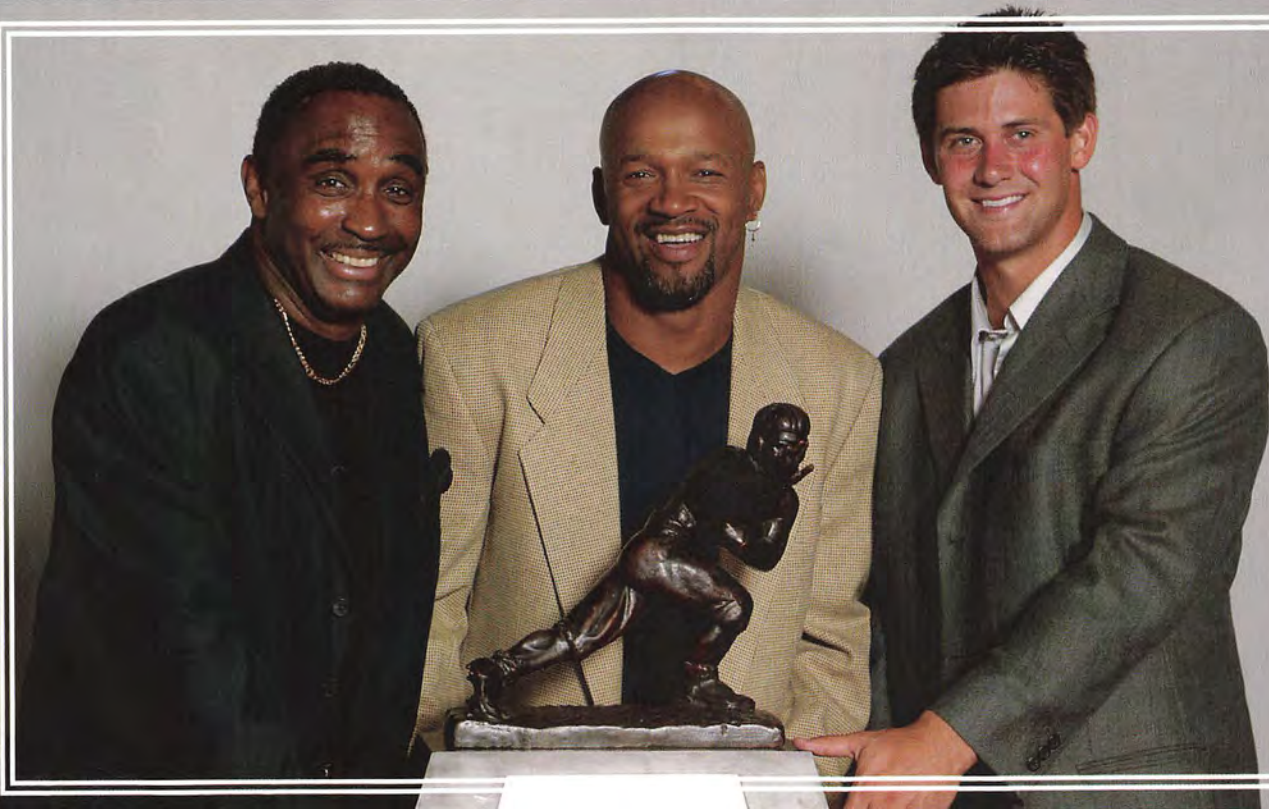

Johnny Rodgers won the Heisman Trophy after his senior season when he accounted for more than 2,000 all-purpose yards and 17 touchdowns. He received 1,310 points, easily topping Oklahoma's Greg Pruitt (901) and fellow Husker Rich Glover (652).

Mike Rozier became NU's second Heisman winner after rushing for 2,148 yards and 29 touchdowns as a senior in 1983. Rozier received 1,801 points, finishing ahead of runner-up Steve Young of BYU (1,172) and Doug Flutie (235).

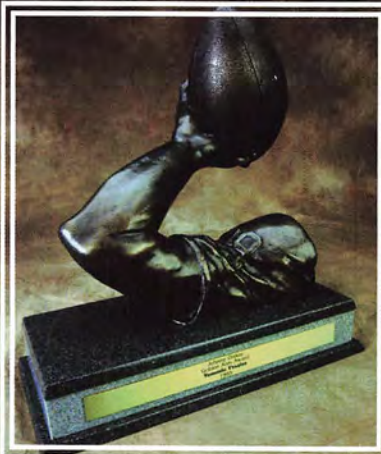

Eric Crouch is the most recent Heisman winner for the Huskers, earning the honor following the 2001 season when he became just the third player in NCAA history to rush for 3,000 yards and pass for 4,000 yards in a career.

All-America Tradition

The Nebraska football team has continually seen players nominated — and win — major awards throughout the years, and that has certainly included All-America honorees.

Over the years, 93 former Huskers have earned All-America honors, including 14 players who earned more than one honor. There have been 106 Huskers who have earned first-team awards and 43 consensus All-Americans on the Nebraska sidelines. Those players earned a total of 53 consensus All-America honors.

Brook Berringer Citizenship Team

The 11th Annual Brook Berringer Citizenship Team was recognized on the field prior to the 2007 Red-White Spring Game. Among this year's honorees were (l to r): Titus Brothers, Victory Haines, Will Henry, J.B. Phillips, Brandon Rigoni, Matt Senske and Dan Titchener. Not pictured: Greg Austin, Todd Peterson and Jake Wesch.

Husker Community Involvement

Ten members of the 2006 football team comprise the 11th annual Brook Berringer Citizenship Team as announced by the Nebraska Athletic Department. The student-athletes were recognized on the field before kickoff of the 2007 Red-White Spring Game at Memorial Stadium.

The Brook Berringer Citizenship Team was established by the Husker football program in honor of former Nebraska quarterback Brook Berringer, who died in a plane crash in April of 1996. Berringer was a member of NU's back-to-back national championship teams in 1994 and 1995. He was also one of the most dedicated Husker volunteers in the community with youth, both in Nebraska and in his hometown of Goodland, Kan.

The team honors players who display a similar love and dedication for volunteering in the community.

This year's Berringer Citizenship Team is headlined by four repeat honorees, including a pair of three-time honorees. Offensive lineman Greg Austin, who completed his eligibility in 2006, has been named to the team for the third consecutive year. Joining Austin as a three-time honoree is junior place-kicker Jake Wesch, who also earned a spot on the team in 2005 and 2006. Junior punter Dan Titchener and senior fullback Matt Senske were each named to the Berringer team for the second consecutive year.

Six Nebraska players were named to the team for the first time in their careers. The first-time honorees include former defensive back Titus Brothers, senior offensive lineman Victory Haines, redshirt freshman wide receiver Will Henry, junior wide receiver Todd Peterson, senior tight end J.B. Phillips and 2006 senior safety Brandon Rigoni.

Coach Bill Callahan has made a commitment to the Husker football team giving back to the community. The football program was again a contender for Nebraska's Team Life Skills Award, which was presented at the annual Student-Athlete Academic Banquet in April. The football team won the award in 2005 and was among the finalists in 2006 and 2007.

In addition to hundreds of individual community outreach activities, the Huskers have had several team Life Skills events, including visiting Lincoln and Omaha area hospitals over the course of the past few years.

Brook Berringer was a four-year letterwinner at quarterback for Nebraska. As a junior, he helped lead the Huskers to their third national championship with a 7-0 record as a starter in 1994.

Academic Excellence

The NCAA's Top Eight Award

The highest honor the National Collegiate Athletic Association can bestow on a student-athlete is The Top Eight Award. The award is based not only on outstanding athletic accomplishments, but on excellent academic records and leadership ability in community and campus activities.

In 1998, the University of Nebraska had one of its student-athletes earn the Top Eight Award, as All-America rush end Grant Wistrom was honored at the NCAA honors dinner. Wistrom's selection gave Nebraska nine Top Eight honorees in the 1990s. Two Huskers received the award in both 1990 and 1991, the only times that a school has had more than one student-athlete honored. Nine of Nebraska's Top Eight picks were football players, making the Husker grid program the most decorated in the country.

A two-time first-team academic All-American, Wistrom set the school record for tackles for loss (58.5) and was second with 26.5 career sacks. A two-time Big 12 Defensive Player of the Year, Wistrom was a consensus All-American and won NU's fourth Lombardi Award in 1997. Wistrom joined fellow Top Eight award winners Dave Rimington and Trev Alberts as NFL first-round draft picks, as Wistrom was selected by the St. Louis Rams with the No. 6 pick in the 1998 NFL Draft. Off the field, Wistrom received postgraduate scholarships from the National Football Foundation/College Football Hall of Fame and the NCAA.

In the 1990s, six Husker football players were awarded the Top Eight honor, including Aaron Graham (1996), Rob Zatechka (1994), Trev Alberts (1994), Pat Tyrance (1991) and Jake Young (1990). Nebraska's success in the classroom also extends to other sports, as the Husker volleyball team boasts three winners, while three NU gymnasts (two men, one woman) have also claimed NCAA Top Eight honors, including 2005 winner Richelle Simpson.

Dane Todd had a strong career on and off the field at Nebraska. He was a first-team academic All-American in 2005 and second-team member in 2006 before earning the prestigious Walter Byers Scholarship.

Academic All-Americans

The Nebraska football team has a rich history of academic excellence, as evidenced by the team's 62 first-team College Sports Information Directors of America (CoSIDA) Academic All-America certificates through the years. Fifty players have earned the honor, including 12 who won in multiple years, while 56 of the awards have been won in the past three decades. Five other Huskers were selected to academic All-America squads by groups other than CoSIDA, giving Nebraska a total of 67 first-team academic All-Americans. The Huskers lead the nation with 252 academic All-Americans across all sports.

Winning Edge in Academics

The success of Nebraska athletes is not limited to the athletic arenas. More Husker student-athletes have been selected to CoSIDA Academic All-America teams than from any other school in the country, and more Huskers have earned academic all-conference honors than athletes from any other league school. NU has led the Big 12 in graduation rates in seven of the league's 11 years.

Academic Facts

» Nebraska has earned the highest number of first-, second- and third-team CoSIDA Academic All-America awards in the nation with 252, 61 more than any other school. Nebraska has seen 122 of those earn first-team honors, including 71 since 1990.

» Husker student-athletes have earned 15 NCAA Today's Top Eight Awards, more than any other school. The football team has nine honorees, the most of any individual sport in the nation.

» NU boasts a 94 percent graduation rate for student-athletes who complete their eligibility.

» In January 2005, Nebraska received awards from the National Consortium for Academics and Sport for community outreach and degree completion.

» Nebraska football has been honored for academic achievement by the AFCA for eight straight years. NU was one of 30 schools to post a 70 percent graduation rate or better in 2007.

» Nebraska student-athletes earned 131 academic all-conference awards across all sports, including 109 first-team honorees. Nebraska student-athletes also earned a Big 12-leading 525 spots on the Big 12 Commissioners Academic Honor Rolls.

The Nebraska Academic Experience

From the day student-athletes decide the University of Nebraska is the right place to be, the athletic academic counseling unit provides personal support, academic support and professional development to ensure that student-athletes will get the most out of their years as Huskers.

Step 1: Professional Development

» Career Exploration

Services are in place to help student-athletes explore academic majors and career options. Nebraska is a pioneer in all phases of career counseling. It is critical to declare a major and find a career path consistent with your skills, abilities and goals.

» Career Planning

Nebraska will prepare you better than any program in the country to be extremely competitive in the job market. Student-athletes have unique transferable athletic skills that provide a definite advantage throughout the job search process.

» Career and Graduate School Placement

Nebraska offers many opportunities for you to network and interact with prospective employers. The athletic department coordinates a student-athlete career fair and hosts an athlete-helping-athlete networking night. University Career Services coordinates numerous job and graduate fairs throughout the year.

Step 2: Academic Guidance

» Educational Assessments

Assessments are administered during new student-athlete orientation to help determine your strengths and areas for improvement. Results allow academic counselors to develop a personalized academic support program and team.

» Tutorial Support

A tremendous resource for all academic abilities, unlimited tutorial support is available from day one up to college graduation. Subject and mentor tutors help provide academic support and study strategies to be successful.

» Supplemental Instruction

A sub-component of the tutorial program, targeted group review sessions help ease the adjustment to college academics while building academic self-esteem.

» Academic Supervision

Ten academic counselors are in place to monitor daily academic progress, receive consistent course feedback and monitor athletic eligibility.

» Computer Resources

Student-athletes enjoy a state-of-the-art computer lab with nearly 50 computers and professional supervision. Laptop computers are available during team travel.

Step 3: Personal Support

» Student-Athlete Orientation

The Hewitt Center staff coordinate New Student-Athlete Orientation, which will help you adjust to the multiple demands of being a college student-athlete.

» Life Skills Program

Proactive life skills education is provided to teach skills necessary to succeed in college and beyond. National and campus presenters address topics focusing on responsible decision making in all aspects of life. Teams compete for the annual Life Skills Award of Excellence honoring the single team that was the most committed to all aspects of life skills education and programming initiatives.

In 2005 the Nebraska football team won the Life Skills Award of Excellence demonstrating a strong commitment to community service, team education and character development.

» Personal Counseling

Student-athletes will find a supportive and caring environment at Nebraska. Transitional issues, stress management, time management, academic focus and problem resolution are all addressed in a proactive manner throughout the year. Counseling referrals are also made if necessary to mental health professionals at the University Health Center.

» Multi-Cultural Support

Designed to enhance cultural awareness, staff members concentrate efforts on issues of transition, adjustment and retention for students of color, international students and women.

» Student-Athlete Advisory Committee

Leadership student group featuring representation from every Husker team, which has continuous communication with athletic administrators, Big 12 Conference and NCAA staff.

» Husker Outreach Program

Involvement and leadership are priorities at Nebraska. Student-athletes can choose from more than 20 outreach programs ranging from hospital visits to motivational assemblies. Nebraska student-athletes reach over 100,000 youth statewide on an annual basis.

Sarah Pavan was named the 2007 Honda-Broderick Cup winner for her efforts on the court and in the classroom. Pavan was also the CoSIDA Academic All-America of the Year across all Division I sports in 2006-07, joining Rob Zatechka (1994-95) as the only Huskers ever to receive the honor.

Community Involvement

New Orleans Saints head coach Sean Payton, the 2006 NFL Coach of the Year, joined Nebraska coach Bill Callahan as the keynote speaker at the 2007 Nebraska Spring Coaches Clinic.

Nebraska place-kicker Jake Wesch was named to his third consecutive Brook Berringer Citizenship Team before the 2007 Spring Game.

Trust. Love. Commitment. Belief.

The Nebraska football program believes that family is at the heart of its success. Using the principles of trust, love, commitment and belief, the Huskers are forming lifelong relationships as players, teammates and citizens.

Nebraska's family atmosphere transcends the current team, as former Huskers play active roles in the daily lives of today's NU student-athletes. Current Huskers pay it forward by reaching out to the young Huskers of tomorrow.

Husker assistant coach Dennis Wagner and senior center Brett Byford rally the participants at the Husker Youth Experience.

Nebraska head coach Bill Callahan served as the official starter for the third annual Coach Callahan 5K in August 2006.

Giving Back

Champions on the Field and in the Community

In a study released in the summer of 2006, Nebraska ranked as the No. 2 state in the nation in volunteerism. The Nebraska football team has played a major role in the volunteer spirit across the state, giving back to the community in many ways.

Husker players mentor youths in local schools, visit children in hospitals and make appearances at events throughout Nebraska. The Huskers play a leading role in the "School is Cool" Celebration and the "Tour of Excellence" which reaches thousands of children across the state with a positive message.

AFCA Good Works Team

Through the years, Nebraska football players have been recognized among the nation's elite on the field as well as in the classroom and community. Since its inception in 1992, the American Football Coaches Association Good Works Team has included 10 Huskers who have earned 11 certificates, a total that leads the nation.

Former Nebraska fullback Dane Todd was the last NU recipient in 2006. Todd was an active member in the Lincoln and Nebraska community. In the classroom, he was twice named an Academic All-American.

The Good Works Team is comprised of two 11-player teams, a Division I-AA team and a combined team from Divisions I-AA, II, III and the NAIA. The teams honor players for their dedication and commitment to community service.

Home of Champions . . . Memorial Stadium

On Sept. 7, 2002, against Utah State, Nebraska celebrated its record 250th consecutive sellout. The Huskers will continue their NCAA-record sellout streak this season as they enter the 2007 campaign with 282 straight sellouts dating back to the 1962 season.

On Nov. 24, 2006, Nebraska set a single-game home attendance record with 85,800 fans watching the Huskers battle conference rival Colorado in a 37-14 season-fine victory. Nebraska set a single-season home attendance record in the Huskers' 2001 Rose Bowl season when 622,436 fans attended eight home games (77,804 per game). With the addition of 6,000 seats to north stadium before the start of the 2006 season, Nebraska averaged a school-record 85,044 fans per game during the Huskers' 6-1 home campaign, dropping only a 22-20 nail biter to then-No. 5 Texas.

The streak of consecutive sellouts started on Nov. 3, 1962, when 36,501 attended the Homecoming contest against Missouri. The last non-sellout came Oct. 20, 1962, when the Huskers and Kansas State drew 30,701.

With renovations for the 2000 season, Memorial Stadium's capacity was reduced by 113 seats to 73,918, which was down from the 74,031-seat capacity in 1999 but up from the 72,700 in 1998. Recent additions of more than 6,000 seats before the 2006 season pushed capacity over 80,000, making Memorial Stadium the third-largest stadium in the Big 12 Conference. With attendance of more than 75,000 fans per game for the past 33 years, NU has ranked among the nation's attendance leaders during that time.

In the fall of 1922, a drive for $430,000 in stadium construction funds was undertaken by faculty, students, alumni and friends of the University of Nebraska. The quota was over-subscribed. The stadium was named Memorial Stadium to honor all Nebraskans who served in the Civil and Spanish-American Wars; the 751 Nebraskans who died in World War I; the 3,839 in World War II; the 225 in Korea; the 422 in Vietnam; and Nebraska's fallen soldiers from the war in Iraq. Construction was completed in a few more than 90 working days and Memorial Stadium was dedicated on Oct. 20, 1923, at the Homecoming game in which Nebraska was held to a scoreless tie by Kansas.

Inscribed on the four corners of the stadium are the following words, written by former UNL professor of philosophy Hartley Burr Alexander:

Southeast: "In Commendation of the men of Nebraska who served and fell in the Nations Wars."

Southwest: "Not the victory but the action; Not the goal but the game; In the deed the glory."

Northwest: "Courage; Generosity; Fairness; Honor; In these are the true awards of manly sport."

Northeast: "Their Lives they held their countrys trust; They kept its faith; They died its heroes."

As part of the continuing improvement of athletic facilities at the University of Nebraska, several major projects have been completed throughout the past 80 years enhancing the facility. The $1 million Hewit Center dining/study hall area was opened in March of 1985, underneath the West Stadium adjacent to the massive strength complex. The weight room and the Hewit Center were expanded and remodeled in 1989.

Before the fall of 1994, Nebraska installed two 17 feet high, by 23 feet wide replay boards, now known to Nebraska faithful as HuskerVision screens.

Following the 1997 season, construction began on a $36-million improvement project which was completed during the 1999 season. Included in the improvements were the addition of the Don Bryant Media Facility and 42 skyboxes, each of which house 25 spectators on game day. In addition, club seating rose from approximately 350 to 1,500 per game. The improvement project also tripled the number of restrooms on both the East and West sides of the stadium, doubled the number of concessions in both East and West concourses and included concrete repair and waterproofing throughout the stadium. The 1999 season also saw the introduction of FieldTurf as the playing surface at Memorial Stadium. The renovations raised the capacity of Memorial Stadium from 72,700 to 73,918. It is also ensured that the original four inscriptions remained visible.

Construction on the new Tom and Nancy Osborne Athletic Complex began in the summer of 2004 and concluded in the fall of 2006. The complex on the North end of Memorial Stadium includes a new football locker room, new weight room and athletic medicine facilities, new coaches offices for the football staff, as well as offices for athletic department administrative staff.

In 2006 the two old HuskerVision replay boards were replaced and situated on the South end of the stadium, while another larger screen measuring 33-feet 7 3/16-inches high by 117-feet 7 1/8-inches wide has been added on the North end as part of the new Osborne Athletic Complex. The project also provided Nebraska with a second indoor workout facility in the Hawks Championship Center.

True Home-Field Advantage

For the past 83 years, Nebraska football teams have gladly called Memorial Stadium home with an impressive 353-105-13 (.770) record posted by the Huskers in their home since it was opened in 1923.

Over the past 20 years, Nebraska owns 124 wins on its home field, the most in the nation and 10 more than any other school in the country.

Under the Lights

Nebraska's first night football game was Nov. 30, 1951, at Miami's Orange Bowl when the Huskers lost to the Miami Hurricanes, 19-7. Ironically, Nebraska's first night football game at home was the 1986 opener against another team from the "Sunshine State," Florida State. Nebraska is 60-20-3 all time under the lights, including 20-2 at home.

Nebraska's Bowl History

Nebraska has earned 44 bowl berths all-time to rank fifth in college football history (22-22 record). The Huskers' record of 35 consecutive bowls ranks first in the nation. NU played in a bowl game every season from 1969 to 2003 and owned a 19-16 record in that span.

Between 1982 and 1998, the Huskers played in an NCAA-record 17 straight "Major Bowls" in January, where they won seven times. Nebraska has also won eight of its last 12 bowl games.

The Huskers have squared off against a top-ranked team in a bowl game four times, most recently the 2002 Rose Bowl loss to Miami. Fourteen of Nebraska's last 21 bowl opponents have been ranked in the top five at game time.

The Huskers have won five national championships, including three in the 1990s. Nebraska's run between 1993 and 1997 was one of the most amazing streaks in college football history, as NU earned a 60-3 record with outright national titles in 1994 and 1995. In 1997, the Huskers capped the run with their third title in four years, splitting with Michigan.

Nebraska Through the Years

One of the most storied programs in college football history, the Nebraska Cornhuskers have brought home five national titles and 43 conference championships since the first team hit the gridiron in 1890. Since then, Nebraska has also added 11 undefeated seasons while amassing 803 all-time victories (entering 2007) to rank third in NCAA history.

National Championship History

Few college athletic programs can boast the national championship resume of Nebraska football. Since 1970, Nebraska has captured five national championships, and played for a national title in a bowl game on four other occasions. The Huskers are one of only three college football teams to win five national championships since 1970, and one of only six to capture at least three titles.

Nebraska has won five national titles in program history. Since 1970, the Huskers have won more championship trophies than any team in the country.

Coach Tom Osborne won 255 games in his illustrious career, including three national championship contests. The College Football Hall of Fame waived the normal three-year waiting period to induct Osborne immediately after he retired following his team's national championship in the 1998 Orange Bowl.

1970 National Champions (11-0-1)

Early in the 1970 season, Jerry Murtaugh predicted Nebraska would win the national championship. Murtaugh was a senior linebacker and co-captain who, in just three seasons, set the Cornhusker career record for tackles. That mark stood for more than 30 years before being broken in 2004.

It was obvious that Murtaugh was capable of backing up whatever he said, and Murtaugh and the Huskers provided plenty of support for his statement on the field. Nebraska had been 9-2 the previous season, winning its final seven games, including a decisive 45-6 victory against Georgia in the Sun Bowl.

After the Sun Bowl game, Georgia coach Vince Dooley said the Cornhuskers hadn't belonged in El Paso, Texas. They deserved better competition than his team could provide.

Still, 1970 was a new season. And though Nebraska had several starters returning on offense, Murtaugh was one of only three defensive starters returning. Dave Walline and Jim Anderson were the others.

Besides, winning a national championship wasn't something over which a team had complete loss to USC, in a rematch of the previous year's Cotton Bowl. And Ohio State drew Stanford in the Rose Bowl.

Nebraska's hopes of earning the AP version of the national championship were slim. Both Texas and Ohio State would have to lose, and the Cornhuskers would have to win. But it happened.

Notre Dame upset Texas 24-11, and Stanford staged a fourth-quarter comeback to defeat Ohio State 27-17. Nebraska learned of the latter result during the Orange Bowl's pregame warmups.

The Cornhuskers appeared ready to seize their opportunity, jumping ahead of LSU 10-0 in the first 13 minutes of the Orange Bowl. But the Tigers controlled the ball during the second and third quarters, scoring on a 31-yard pass on the final play of the third quarter to take a 12-10 lead.

Nebraska responded by driving 67 yards for the winning touchdown, scored by Tagge from one yard away with 8:50 remaining. Junior linebacker Bob Terrio, a junior college transfer who had arrived at Nebraska as a fullback, preserved the victory by intercepting a Bert Jones pass with 45 seconds left.

Notre Dame Coach Ara Parseghian argued that his team should be the AP champion because it had defeated No. 1 Texas. But NU was a decisive No. 1 in the final AP poll. "I was afraid Ara's comments might influence the voters, but I guess the writers are too smart to take some coach's word," Cornhusker Coach Bob Devaney said. "The writers knew who was best."

Nebraska also received an endorsement from President Richard Nixon, who proclaimed NU No. 1, to the delight of 8,000 fans at the NU Coliseum, on Jan. 14, 1971. Murtaugh and fullback Dan Schneiss, NU's co-captains, joined Devaney with Nixon.

It was just as Murtaugh had predicted.

control. It would depend not only on being successful, but also on the votes of writers and broadcasters in the Associated Press poll or of selected coaches in the United Press International poll.

Two games into the season, Murtaugh's brash prediction became a longshot, at best. After opening with a 36-12 victory against Wake Forest, the ninth-ranked Cornhuskers played Southern California to a 21-21 tie at the LA Coliseum. The Trojans tied the score with 8:16 remaining, after a failed 12-yard field goal attempt, resulting from a poor center snap, kept Nebraska from putting the game away.

"We should have won the game," Johnny Rodgers said years later.

Rodgers was a sophomore in 1970, his first varsity season.

A tie at USC was certainly no disgrace. Coach John McKay's team was ranked No. 3. Nebraska even moved up in the next week's Associated Press poll. But No. 8 was still a long way from No. 1.

And the Cornhuskers' record had a blemish, no matter how slight.

Nebraska returned to Memorial Stadium to defeat Army 28-0 the next week, beginning what would be a 23-game winning streak and include not one but two national championships.

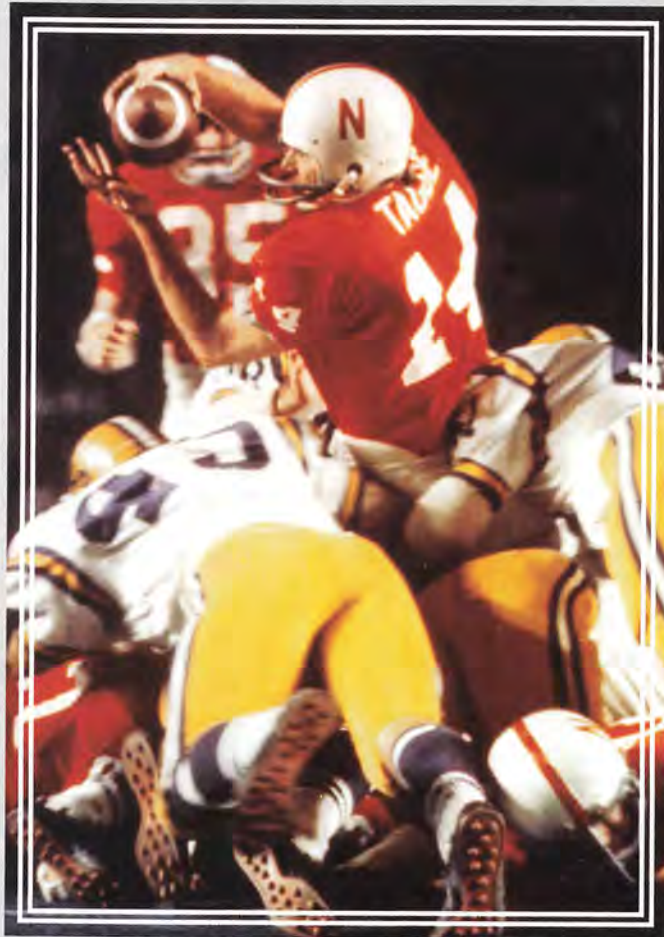

NU rolled through the Big Eight, moving up to No. 3 in the AP rankings after a 51-13 victory against No. 20 Kansas State in the next-to-last game of the regular season. Nebraska intercepted Wildcat quarterback Lynn Dickey a school-record seven times, and Cornhusker back Joe Orduna rushed for 105 yards and four touchdowns against what had been the conference's best defense.

Orduna, a senior who sat out the 1969 season as a medical redshirt, led Nebraska in rushing in 1970.

A week later, the Cornhuskers won the Big Eight championship outright by defeating Oklahoma 28-21 at Memorial Stadium. Though unranked, the young Sooners could have earned a share of the conference title with a victory. Nebraska had to come from behind twice during the game. Junior quarterback Jerry Tagge scored the winning touchdown, capping a 53-yard drive, with 7:42 remaining.

Nebraska finished 10-0-1, its first undefeated regular season since 1965, and ranked No. 3 in both wire service polls, behind two unbeaten and untied teams: No. 1 Texas and No. 2 Ohio State. The UPI didn't conduct a poll after bowl games, so Texas was its national champion for 1970.

The Cornhuskers were matched against No. 5 LSU in the Orange Bowl game on New Year's night. Texas played Notre Dame, which had been No. 1 until a late-season

1971 National Champions (13-0)

Nebraska's 1971 season came down to a single game at Owen Field in Norman, Okla., on Thanksgiving Day. At least, that's how it is most often remembered. The No. 1 Cornhuskers played No. 2 Oklahoma in what still is regularly regarded as college football's "Game of the Century."

The teams were undefeated and untied, and they included 17 of 22 first-team All-Big Eight players. Nebraska had the nation's top-ranked defense. Oklahoma had its most productive offense.

The cover of Sports Illustrated (Nov. 22, 1971) published the week of the game included photographs of Nebraska linebacker Bob Terrio and Oklahoma running back Greg Pruitt, nose-to-nose, beneath the headline: "Irresistible Oklahoma Meets Immovable Nebraska."

The game was equal to its buildup. Johnny Rodgers opened the scoring less than four minutes into the first quarter with a 72-yard punt return, and Rich Sanger finished it by kicking an extra point with 1:38 remaining, following a dramatic, 74-yard drive capped by Jeff Kinney's two-yard run.

Rodgers' punt return is among the most memorable moments of the game. But he also made a key play to keep the winning touchdown drive alive, improvising on a pass route to get open on third-and-eight, then making a diving catch of a Jerry Tagge pass for a 12-yard gain and a first down.

Cornhusker middle guard Rich Glover, who made 22 tackles that afternoon, put the finishing touches on Nebraska's 35-31 victory, deflecting a Jack Mildren fourth-down pass with barely a minute left.

Except for the Oklahoma game, Nebraska was never seriously challenged in its quest to repeat as national champion. The Cornhuskers overwhelmed 12 other opponents, including Alabama in the Orange Bowl, to earn a place among the best teams in college football history.

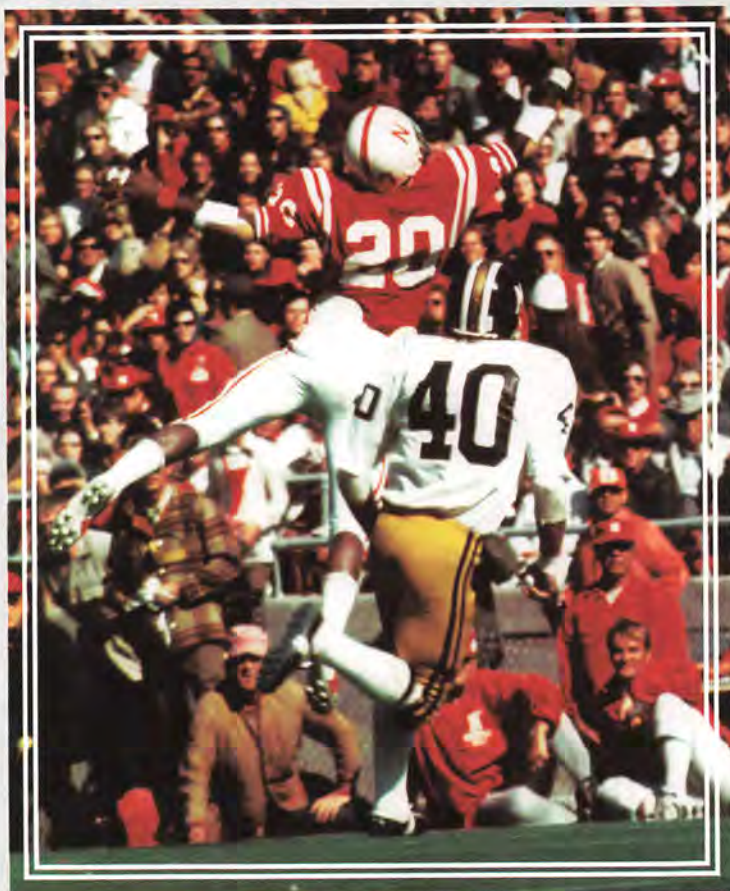

Coach Bear Bryant's Crimson Tide went to Miami undefeated, untied and ranked No. 2. The Tide left a 38-6 loser, providing proper payback for Nebraska's 39-28 and 34-7 bowl losses to Alabama following the 1965 and 1966 seasons. The first of those losses, in the 1966 Orange Bowl game, cost Coach Bob Devaney's Cornhuskers a perfect season and probably a national championship.

Although Nebraska averaged what was then a school-record 437.7 yards on offense, including a Big Eight-leading 179.3 yards passing, and ranked third nationally in scoring, averaging 39.1 points per game, it was defense that set apart the Cornhuskers — as the Sports Illustrated headline pointed out.

Nebraska ranked second in the nation in rushing defense (85.9 ypg), third in scoring defense (8.2 ppg) and fifth in total defense (202.9 ypg). The Blackshirts included seven first-team All-Big Eight selections, four players who would earn consensus All-America recognition during their careers and two Outland Trophy winners: Glover and tackle Larry Jacobson. Glover would win both the Outland and Lombardi awards in 1972. They were joined in the starting lineup by junior end Willie Harper, like Glover, a two-time All-American. John Dutton, an All-American in 1973, was a sophomore backup.

Besides Glover, Jacobson and Harper, the other first-team all-conference defenders were Terrio, Jim Anderson, Bill Kosch and Joe Blahak. Anderson, Kosch and Blahak played in the secondary.

Anderson and Tagge, one of five Cornhuskers on the All-Big Eight first-team offense, were the captains. Both were from West High School in Green Bay, Wis., as Wingback Johnny Rodgers was a key to the Huskers' national title run in 1971 and won the Heisman Trophy in 1972.

was starting monster back Dave Mason, a junior who had sat out the 1970 season as a medical redshirt.

The other first-team offensive players were Rodgers, Kinney, Carl Johnson and Dick Rupert.

The Cornhusker defense was opportunistic as well as immovable, contributing to a school-record plus-26 turnovers. Nebraska recovered 20 opponent fumbles and intercepted 27 passes.

Nebraska was No. 2 in the Associated Press preseason rankings but moved to No. 1 after opening with a 34-7 victory against Oregon at Memorial Stadium. Bobby Moore, now known as Ahmad Rashad, scored the Ducks' lone touchdown with just over three minutes remaining in the game.

Only three opponents scored more than one touchdown against the Cornhuskers. Oklahoma State and Kansas State each managed two touchdowns, and Oklahoma, of course, scored four. The only time all season that Nebraska even trailed during a game was against the Sooners.

The Cornhuskers opened conference play with back-to-back shutouts against Missouri (36-0) and Kansas (55-0), during a stretch in which they posted 12 consecutive scoreless quarters.

In addition to everything else, the Cornhuskers almost always had good field position because of the punt and kickoff returns of Rodgers, a key to their success, according to Tom Osborne, an assistant who designed and coordinated the offense.

"As great as that team was, take Johnny Rodgers out of there on kickoff and punt returns, and it probably wouldn't have gone 13-0," Osborne said.

Nebraska extended its winning streak to 23 games and its unbeaten streak to 32 games in 1971. Repeating as national champions "wasn't automatic," Rodgers said.

But going into the season, "we were pretty doggone confident."

1994 National Champions (13-0)

Byron Bennett's 45-yard field goal attempt sailed wide left in the final second of Nebraska's 18-16 loss to Florida State in the 1994 Orange Bowl game. With that miss, an 11-game Cornhusker winning streak ended. And the run to Coach Tom Osborne's first national championship began.

Nebraska's focus for the 1994 season was finishing the business that had been left incomplete on the night of Jan. 1, 1994, in Miami. The actual process started with a 31-0 victory against West Virginia in the Kickoff Classic in late August, and it concluded with a come-from-behind, 24-17 victory against Miami, on the Hurricanes' home field, in the 1995 Orange Bowl game. To a degree, that game characterized the season.

An important subplot of 1994 involved the Cornhusker quarterbacks. Junior Tommie Frazier, a two-year starter, opened the season as if he might run away with the Heisman Trophy before being sidelined by blood clot problems in his right knee after the fourth game.

Frazier's misfortune represented an opportunity for junior Brook Berringer, who came off the bench to lead Nebraska to the Big Eight championship and the Orange Bowl game. Berringer was 7-0 as a starter, passing for 1,295 yards and 10 touchdowns, in what amounted to only eight full games. He threw just three passes in the first three games.

When Berringer was slowed by a partially collapsed lung, a problem that occurred in back-to-back games, sophomore walk-on Matt Turman stepped up and directed the Cornhuskers. Although Berringer had been cleared to play, Turman gained a 7-6 lead against Kansas State at Manhattan that ended 17-6.

Turman had come on to replace Berringer the previous week, directing Nebraska to 23 second-half points in a 32-3 victory against Oklahoma State in the Cornhuskers' Big Eight opener.

The quarterback sequence was somewhat similar in the Orange Bowl victory. Frazier, who had been included on the travel roster for the final regular-season game at Oklahoma (but did not play), started against Miami. Berringer replaced him and got Nebraska on the scoreboard in the second quarter, with a 19-yard touchdown pass to tight end Mark Gilman. Then Frazier returned to finish it and earn game MVP honors.

Nebraska trailed the Hurricanes 10-7 at halftime and fell behind 17-7 less than two minutes into the third quarter. But during the intermission, Osborne had described to the Cornhuskers the way the second half would go if they maintained their composure and continued to play smart physical Husker football. They did.

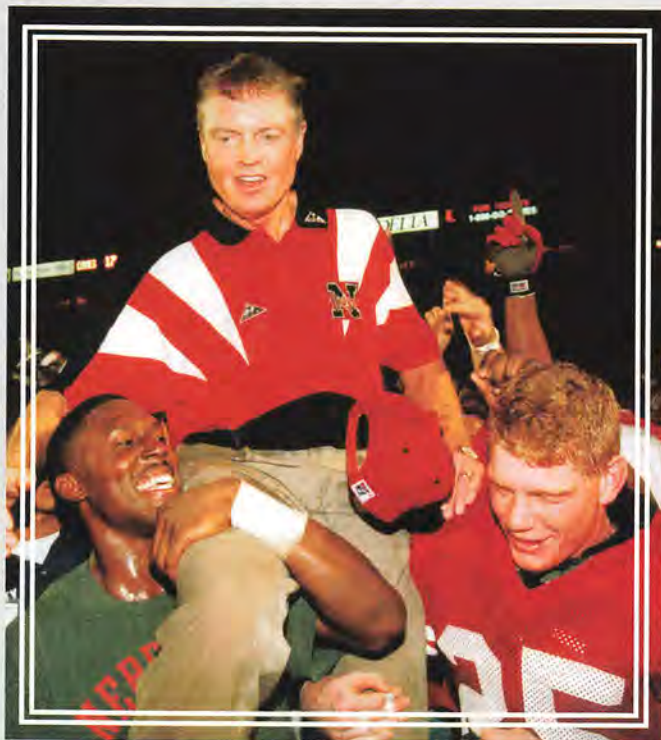

Afterward, Osborne's halftime speech was made public. It was eerily prophetic.

Even though Nebraska finished its business by going 13-0, it remained for voters in the Associated Press and USA Today/CNN polls to certify the Cornhuskers as national champions. Penn State also went through the season undefeated and untied at 12-0. The Nittany Lions argued to no avail.

Nebraska began the season ranked No. 4 by the Associated Press, moved to No. 1 after the Kickoff Classic, then inexplicably dropped to No. 2 following a 42-16 victory at Texas Tech. Sophomore safety Mike Minter suffered a season-ending knee injury during the game televised by ESPN.

In many ways, Minter was to the defense what Frazier was to the offense. His loss was significant; a fact underscored during an unexpectedly close, 42-32 victory against pass-happy Wyoming.

The Cornhuskers dropped to No. 3 in the AP poll after the Kansas State victory, before finally moving to No. 1 following the Colorado game. The Buffaloes came to Lincoln undefeated, untied and ranked No. 2 by the AP and No. 3 by USA Today/CNN. Nebraska was No. 2 according to the coaches. The Cornhuskers remained No. 2 in the USA Today/CNN rankings another week, before ascending to the top spot on the strength of a 45-17 victory over Kansas, despite a Penn State victory against Indiana.

Nebraska earned the voters' respect with an offense that featured one of the best lines in school history and a new 4-3 defense that allowed only 55 points in conference play. Led by linebacker Ed Stewart, a consensus All-American, the Cornhuskers ranked second in the nation in scoring defense, fourth in total defense and rushing defense and 10th in pass defense.

The offensive line included Outland Trophy winner Zach Wiegert at tackle. Along with winning the Outland, Wiegert was a consensus first-team All-American. His linemate Brenden Stai earned All-America honors of his own at guard.

Rob Zatechka, the other tackle, was a four-time academic All-Big Eight selection who graduated with a perfect 4.0 grade-point average in biological sciences. Along with Joel Wilks, the other guard, and center Aaron Graham, the only non-senior among the starters, the group was nicknamed the "Pipeline."

Nebraska led the nation in rushing, with sophomore Lawrence Phillips gaining 1,722 yards, the third-highest single-season total in Cornhusker history. He finished eighth in the Heisman Trophy voting.

Phillips, Graham, Wiegert and Stai all earned first-team all-conference honors on offense.

Stewart, Troy Dumas, Donta Jones, Barron Miles and Tyrone Williams represented the defense on the All-Big Eight first team. Stewart, Wiegert, Zatechka and Terry Connealy were the Husker captains.

A crowd estimated at 14,000 to 15,000 stood in line and braved frigid temperatures for an opportunity to cheer the Cornhuskers at the Bob Devaney Sports Center on their return from Miami.

"We didn't just win this for ourselves, we won this for the whole state of Nebraska," Connealy said.

1995 National Champions (12-0)

Tom Osborne's 23rd Nebraska team was arguably his best. The 1995 Cornhuskers were among the best in college football history.

Though such a sweeping assertion cannot be proven, it can be supported. Nebraska's 1995 national championship team was No. 1 on a list of the top major college teams since 1956. The list was compiled by computer analyst Jeff Sagarin, whose rankings are regularly published in USA Today.

The 1971 Cornhuskers were No. 2 according to Sagarin's power ratings. Both were well ahead of the other teams on the list, which also includes the 1997, 1972 and 1970 Huskers among the top 26.

quarters, in the fifth game of the season. The Cornhuskers scored 20 points in the second quarter to overcome a 7-0 first quarter deficit.

After that, the outcome was never in serious doubt. The final score was 35-21.

Nebraska, which began the season ranked No. 2 by the Associated Press, didn't move to No. 1 until back-to-back victories against No. 8 Kansas State (49-25) and No. 7 Colorado (44-21). After completing a third consecutive undefeated and untied regular season and winning a fifth consecutive Big Eight championship, including four in a row outright, the Cornhuskers eliminated any doubt about their claim to a second consecutive national title by overwhelming No. 2 Florida, 62-24, in the Fiesta Bowl.

Despite the Cornhuskers' success, the 1995 season was one of mixed emotions, resulting from much-publicized off-the-field problems.

"It was a terrible year, and it was a great year," Osborne said after the Fiesta Bowl. "It was taxing. On the other hand, it was very gratifying to work with a group of players who had the kind of focus and drive to carry them through. That was the redeeming factor."

"There were times I was running on empty. I take my spiritual life very seriously. I relied on my faith more than I ever have. I was grateful for the sustaining strength that was there."

The star-crossed nature of the 1995 team was further underscored in the spring, when Brook Berringer, a quarterback who had just completed his eligibility, died in the crash of a light plane.

Osborne again had to turn to his faith to handle the tragedy.

"The Brook I knew, there was nothing he could have done better," Osborne said. "The length (of his life) was not what you would have liked. But the quality couldn't have been better."

Berringer, who had stepped in for an injured Tommie Frazier during the 1994 national championship season, accepted his role without complaint and contributed as a proven backup in 1995.

Frazier, fully recovered from the blood clot problems that sidelined him much of his junior season, set the Husker career record for total offense (5,476) and touchdowns produced (79), which were later broken by 2001 Heisman Trophy winner Eric Crouch. Frazier earned All-America recognition, finished second to Ohio State's Eddie George in balloting for the Heisman and received the most valuable player award in the Fiesta Bowl game.

Frazier, whose record in four years as a starter was 33-3, established himself among the best quarterbacks in Cornhusker history.

"I would say if I were to choose one player who has had the most impact on the outcome of the greatest number of games over the longest period of time since I've been at Nebraska, it would be Tommie Frazier," said Osborne, who began as a graduate assistant in 1962.

Under Frazier's direction, Nebraska's offense was even more productive than that of the "Scoring Explosion" team in 1983. The Cornhuskers ranked No. 1 in the nation in both rushing (399.8) and scoring (52.4) and No. 2 in total offense (556.3). The 1983 team was slightly better rushing the ball, averaging a school-record 401.7 yards, but it averaged slightly fewer points (52.0) and total yards (546.7).

Ahman Green, who began fall camp down the list on the depth chart, became the starting back and broke the school rushing record for a freshman. He gained 1,086 yards and scored 12 touchdowns.

Green would have broken the school scoring record for a freshman were it not for Kris Brown, the place-kicker. Brown, like Green a true freshman, scored 97 points — a school record for kicking.

In addition to Frazier, center Aaron Graham and rush end Jared Tomich earned first-team All-America honors. Graham also was a Cornhusker co-captain, along with tight end Mark Gilman, defensive tackle Christian Peter, safety Tony Veland and linebacker Phil Ellis.

Tomich, a junior who originally walked on, was among five Blackshirts who received first-team all-conference recognition. The other defensive players were Peter, linebacker Terrell Farley, rush end Grant Wistrom and cornerback Tyrone Williams. Frazier and Graham were joined on the All-Big Eight first-team offense by Green, tackle Eric Anderson and guards Chris Dishman and Aaron Taylor.

Rarely has college football seen such a team. Maybe never.

Quarterback Tommie Frazier directed Nebraska to back-to-back national titles, capped by a spectacular 1996 Fiesta Bowl performance.

1997 National Champions (13-0)

A pajama-clad Tom Osborne was packing for home in the early morning hours of Jan. 3, 1998, when he heard the news.

"By that time, I was wrung out enough that there wasn't much emotion left," he would say later that morning during a post-Orange Bowl game news conference.

His response to the news was typically low-key.

"Naturally, I was very pleased, very gratified," he said.

The source of his pleasure had been the announcement on ESPN — the television set in his room at the Sheraton Bal Harbour on Miami Beach had been tuned to the network "by chance," he said — that his 25th and final team had been voted the USA Today/ESPN Coaches national champion.

The Huskers, No. 2 going into the Orange Bowl game, had squeezed ahead of Michigan in the coaches poll on the strength of a 42-17 victory against No. 3 Tennessee.

The Wolverines retained the top spot in the Associated Press media poll.

"Being a coach, I know a little bit how they think," said Osborne, who was among those with a vote in the USA Today/ESPN poll. "They probably looked at the fact we were 13-0, and to be unrewarded in some way would be . . . I don't mean to say an injustice. But it wouldn't be a good thing."

No major college football team has gone 13-0 and been deprived of a national title. On the other hand, Michigan argued, no No. 1 team had ever won its bowl game and been dropped from the top.

The split title seemed a reasonable solution. That was Cornhusker quarterback Scott Frost's point immediately after the decisive victory against Tennessee.

"I can't see how any coach outside of the Big Ten or Pac-10 would vote for Michigan because if somebody from North Carolina, Florida State, wherever it might be, Notre Dame, coaches from there, if they were undefeated and won the Alliance bowl game, they would expect to share the national title," the senior from Wood River, Neb., said on the field, in front of CBS television cameras.

"It's been split before. It's OK to split it. It should be split."

Frost was well-versed on national championship history. The title had been split nine times previously since the coaches poll was established in 1950, most recently in 1990 and 1991.

Nebraska's first national championship in 1970 was split with Texas.

Cornhusker defensive tackle Jason Peter was less sharing than Frost.

"If you ask me, I don't think it should be a split title," he said after the Orange Bowl game.

"I mean, we proved today that we're the best team in the country, without a doubt."

There probably wouldn't have been much doubt in anyone's mind had it not been for Nebraska's dramatic 45-38 overtime victory at Missouri in early November. The Cornhuskers traveled to Columbia with the No. 1 ranking in both polls but returned to Lincoln ranked No. 4.

That same weekend, Michigan went from No. 4 to No. 1 on the strength of a 34-8 victory against No. 2 Penn State, and Florida State, which subsequently lost to Florida, went from No. 3 to No. 2.

Michigan might have slammed the door on Nebraska's national championship aspirations with a more decisive victory against Washington State in the Rose Bowl game, but the door was open "at least a crack," Osborne told his team after it watched the Wolverines win 21-16 on New Year's Day.

Coaching the Cornhuskers to a third national championship in four seasons was a fitting conclusion to Osborne's Hall of Fame career. The National Football Foundation waived its three-year waiting period for induction, allowing Osborne to be enshrined alongside the game's greatest coaches without delay.

Ahman Green rushed for an Orange Bowl record 206 yards, as Nebraska defeated Tennessee, 42-17, in the 1998 Orange Bowl. The victory gave Nebraska its third national title in the 1990s.

Nebraska became only the second major college football program since the Associated Press began ranking teams in 1936 to earn three national titles in four seasons. Notre Dame won titles in 1946, 1947 and 1949.

Peter and rush end Grant Wistrom, the Lombardi Award winner and two-time Big 12 Defensive Player of the Year, were the heart and soul of Nebraska's 1997 national champions.

"Those two guys, among some others, ramrodded that football team," Osborne said. "They decided a year ago they were going to come back and get the thing done. Their leadership was invaluable."

Peter and Wistrom earned All-America honors, as did offensive guard Aaron Taylor, the first Cornhusker to be named an All-American at two positions. He played center in 1996. Taylor was voted the Outland Trophy winner, with Peter being one of two runners-up.

Frost and back Ahman Green were among other key players on offense. Frost became only the 10th player in major college history to rush for 1,000 yards and pass for 1,000 yards in the same season, finishing with 1,095 and 1,237, respectively. Frost's 2,332 yards of total offense were one short of the Nebraska single-season record, set by Jerry Tagge in 1971.

Green rushed for 1,877 yards, which ranked second in the nation. His yards also placed him second on the Cornhuskers' all-time single-season list, behind 1983 Heisman Trophy winner Mike Rozier's 2,148 yards.

Every Cornhusker, from freshman Matt Davison, whose touchdown catch of a deflected Frost pass on the final play of regulation against Missouri kept the title hopes alive, to scout team players such as senior Doug Seaman, contributed in varying degrees to Nebraska's fifth national title.

The 1997 national championship team was "somewhere in between" the 1994 and 1995 national championship teams, according to Osborne. It was "probably a little more talented than '94, certainly not near as controversial as '95. That was nice," he said. "So it was just kind of a nice way to go."

"Great leadership on the part of the players, and I didn't have to do much."

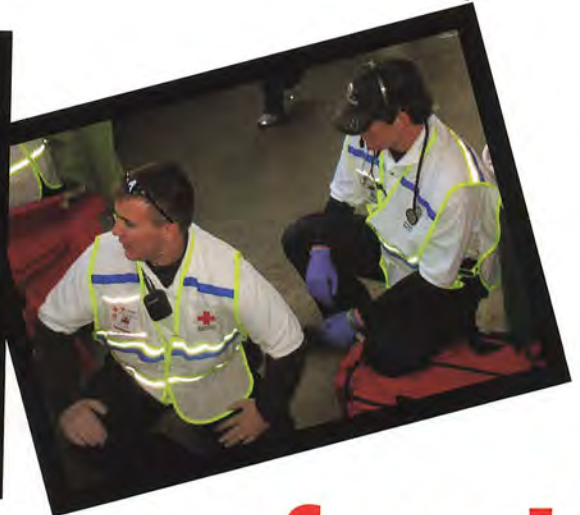

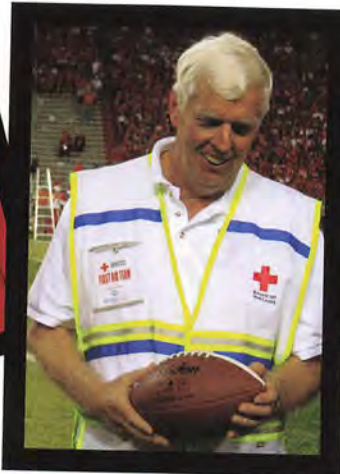

He was being overly modest, of course. The record will attest to that.

Some of the greatest names in college football coaching have been associated with the Huskers. Six Husker coaches have been inducted into the College Football Hall of Fame, including Fielding Yost (above, left), Dana X. Bible (above, right), Bob Devaney (top, right) and Tom Osborne (right). Although not a Hall of Famer, E.O. "Jumbo" Stiehm (above, center) owns the best winning percentage for any Nebraska football coach as his teams won 91.3 percent (35-2-3) of their games over five years.

Huskers in the National Football League

Four Huskers Selected in 2007 NFL Draft

The St. Louis Rams selected Nebraska defensive end Adam Carriker with the 13th pick in the first round of the 2007 National Football League Draft, one of four Huskers taken in the two-day draft last April in New York City.

Nebraska had three players selected on the first day of the draft as running back Brandon Jackson was taken in the second round by Green Bay at pick No. 63, and linebacker Stewart Bradley was taken by Philadelphia with the 87th overall pick in the third round. The three first-day selections marked just the second time since 1998 that Nebraska had three players taken on the opening day of the draft.

The Huskers' draft total rose to four early on the second day when defensive end Jay Moore was taken in the fourth round by the San Francisco 49ers with the 104th overall pick. Moore's selection made Nebraska one of just seven schools in the country to have four or more players selected in the first 104 picks of the 2007 draft (also Florida State, LSU, Michigan, Penn State, Tennessee and Texas).

Carriker was a standout on the Nebraska defensive front for four years, including earning first-team All-Big 12 honors in 2005 and 2006. Last season, he was named Big 12 Defensive Lineman of the Year after registering 52 total tackles, including 16 tackles for loss and seven sacks.

Carriker's selection at No. 13 overall marked the highest a Husker had been drafted since defensive end Grant Wistrom was selected sixth overall in the 1998 draft. Since Wistrom's first-round selection in 1998, Nebraska's other first-round picks before Carriker included defensive tackle Jason Peter (14th, 1998, Carolina Panthers) and cornerback Fabian Washington (23rd, 2005, Oakland Raiders).

Nebraska has a strong history of outstanding defensive linemen in the draft. Carriker and Moore were the 13th and 14th Husker defensive linemen selected in the draft since 1998, and Carriker was the fifth defensive end picked in the first two rounds of the NFL Draft since 1998.

Running back Brandon Jackson became the second Husker taken in the draft when Green Bay selected him with the No. 63 overall pick in the second round. Jackson earned first-team All-Big 12 honors last season after rushing for 989 yards, while also catching 33 passes out of the Nebraska backfield. Jackson became the highest selected Nebraska offensive player since offensive guard Toniu Fonoti was taken in the second round in the 2002 NFL Draft, and Jackson's No. 63 selection marked the highest by a Nebraska running back since Lawrence Phillips was taken sixth overall in the 1996 draft.

Bradley joined Carriker in continuing Nebraska's strong defensive success in recent NFL Draft history with his third-round selection. The Salt Lake City native was a three-year starter at SAM linebacker for the Huskers, and finished the 2006 season as Nebraska's leading tackler with 76 stops. He also had a team-high four fumble recoveries, while forcing another three fumbles.

Moore played in all 37 games over the past three seasons, including 30 starts at defensive end. As a senior, the Elkhorn native registered a team-high 17 tackles for loss, including six sacks and earned second-team All-Big 12 honors. He finished his career with 38 tackles for loss and 12 sacks.

The three Husker defenders selected continued the Blackshirt success in the draft. Carriker, Bradley and Moore give Nebraska a total of 29 Blackshirt defenders selected in the past 10 NFL Drafts.

In addition to the four Husker players drafted, four other Huskers agreed to free-agent deals. Quarterback Zac Taylor and tight end Matt Herian both signed with the Tampa Bay Buccaneers, while defensive linemen Ola Dagunduro and Barry Cryer agreed to deals with Dallas and San Diego.

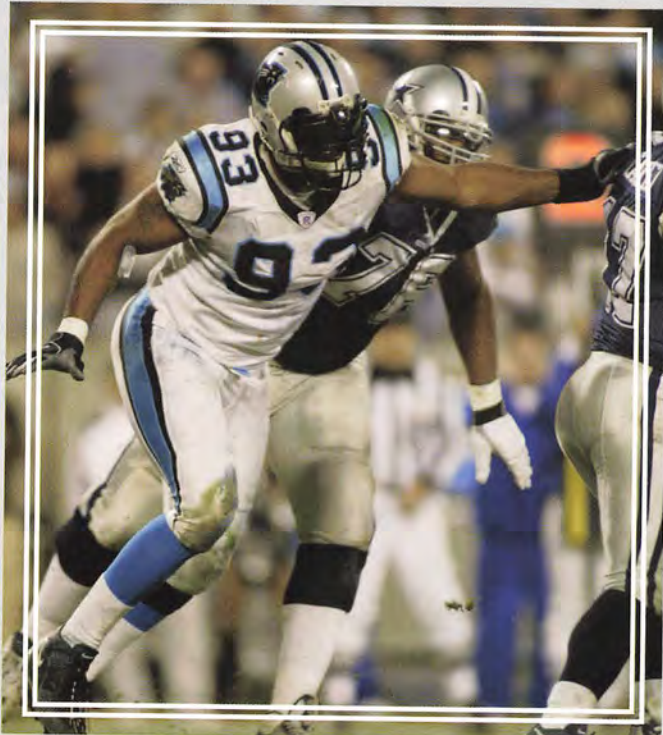

Adam Carriker became the highest drafted Husker since 1998 when he was selected 13th overall in the first round of the 2007 NFL Draft by the St. Louis Rams.

Kris Brown, the all-time leading scorer at Nebraska, has been a place-kicker in the NFL since 1999, kicking for the Pittsburgh Steelers and the Houston Texans.

Huskers in the NFL Hall of Fame

Guy Chamberlin
End/Coach
1920-27

A legend at Nebraska, Guy Chamberlin became the premier end of the NFL in the 1920s. He was a player-coach on four NFL championship teams (1922-24, 1926). His six-year coaching record was 56-14-5 (.780).

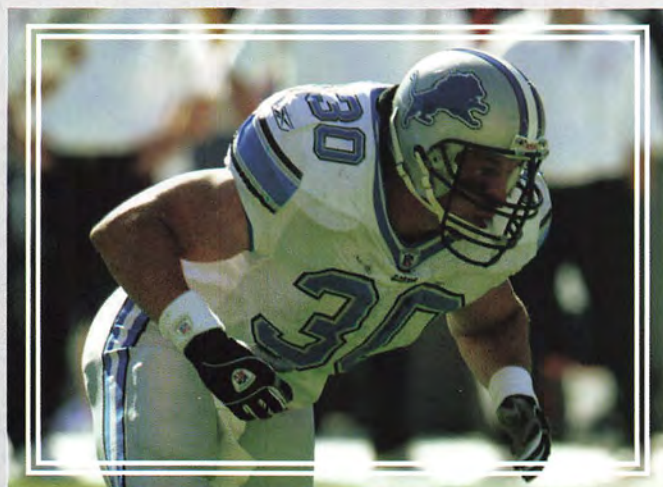

William (Roy) Lyman
Defensive Tackle
1922-34

Roy Lyman pioneered a more sophisticated defensive play with a shifting, sliding style. He starred on four title teams (1922-23, 1924, 1933), and played on one losing team in 16 seasons of college and professional football.

Bob Brown
Offensive Guard
1964-73

An All-American at Nebraska, Bob Brown went on to a 10-year career in the NFL, spending five seasons with Philadelphia, three with the Los Angeles Rams and two with the Oakland Raiders. Brown was inducted into the Pro Football Hall of Fame in 2004.

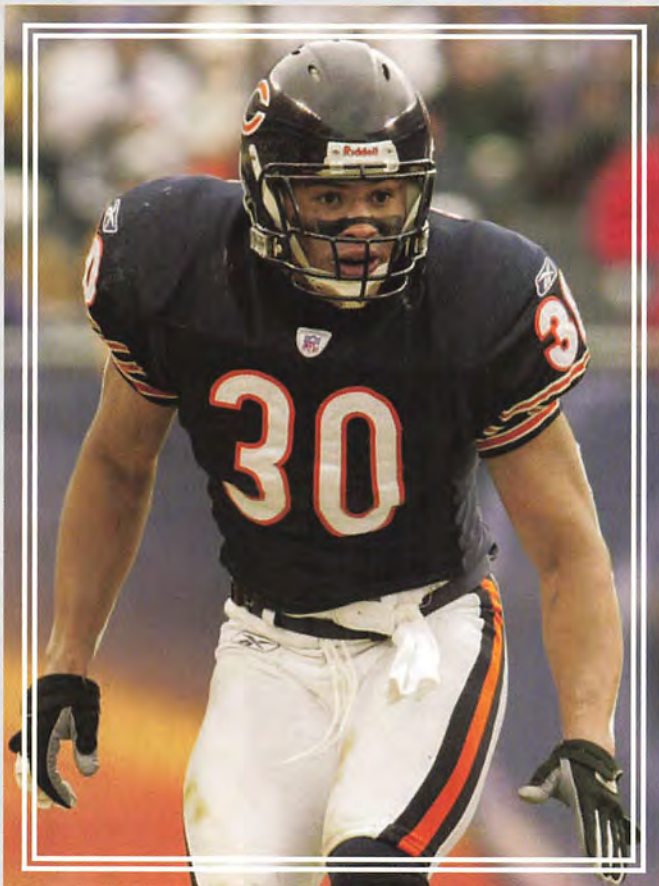

Cory Schlesinger is one of 24 former Huskers to play at least 10 years in the NFL.

Dominic Raiola won the inaugural Rimington Award before joining the Detroit Lions.

Mike Brown has been a key player in the Chicago Bears' defense since 2000, as he has posted 14 career interceptions with four returned for touchdowns.

Mike Minter was the Carolina Panther's all-time leading tackler in franchise history, before retiring in August.

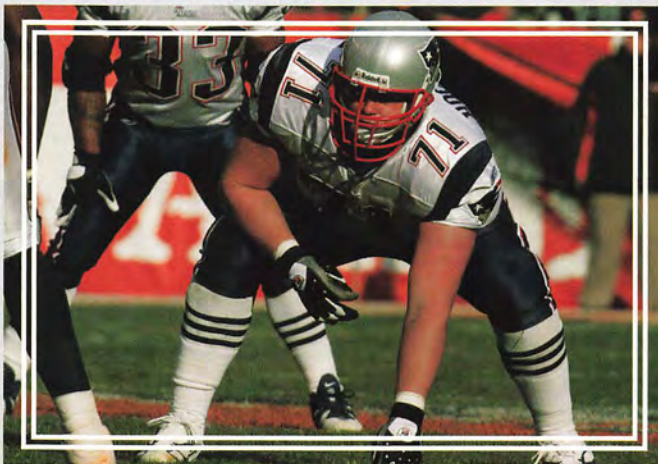

Ahman Green has rushed for nearly 8,500 yards in his nine-year NFL career.

Kyle Vanden Bosch has posted more than 200 total tackles and 19 sacks in two years with the Tennessee Titans.

Nebraska's Retired Jerseys

Following the 1949 season, the N Club voted to retire jersey No. 60 in honor of Tom "Train Wreck" Novak's stellar career with the Cornhuskers. Novak, the first Nebraska player to earn this honor, had been a four-time All-Big Seven choice and a 1949 All-American.

All major national award winners at Nebraska automatically have their jerseys retired, but their numbers will still be available to active Huskers.

Nebraska's group of 16 players with retired jerseys certainly ranks among the best in the nation. The list of Huskers who have earned the distinction of jersey retirement currently includes:

Heisman Trophy winners (3)

Johnny Rodgers, Mike Rozier, Eric Crouch

Outland Trophy winners (7)

Dave Rimington (twice), Larry Jacobson, Rich Glover, Dean Steinkuhler, Will Shields, Zach Wiegert, Aaron Taylor

Lombardi Award winners (4)

Rich Glover, Dave Rimington, Dean Steinkuhler, Grant Wistrom

Johnny Unitas Golden Arm Award winner

Tommie Frazier

Davey O'Brien Award winner

Eric Crouch

Butkus Award winner

Trev Alberts

Rimington Trophy winner

Dominic Raiola

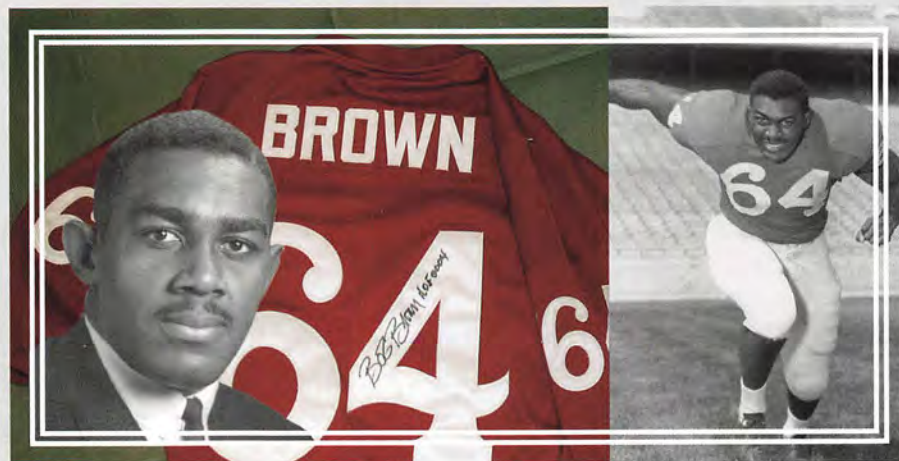

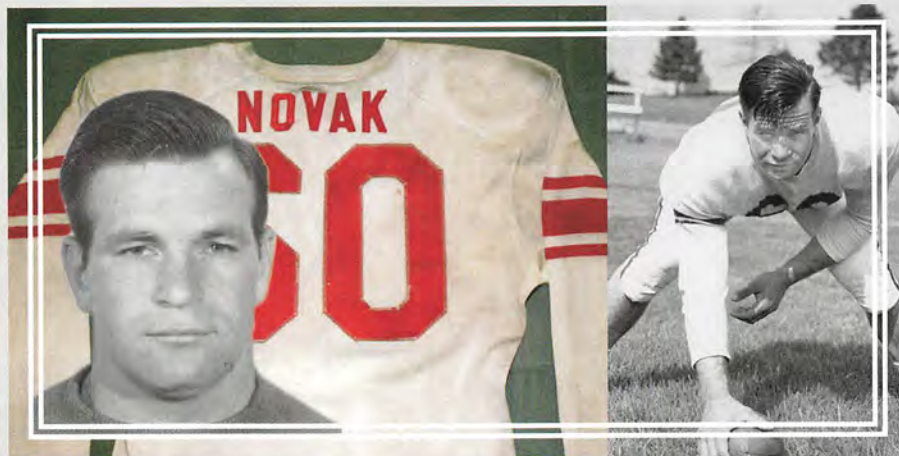

Bob Brown joined Guy Chamberlin as the only former Huskers to be enshrined in both the Nebraska Football Hall of Fame (enshrined in 1993) and the Pro Football Hall of Fame (2004).

Nebraska's Retired Numbers

No. 60 (Tom Novak) and No. 64 (Bob Brown)

For 55 years, Tom Novak was the only Nebraska player to have the distinction of a retired number. In 2004, that finally changed as College and Pro Football Hall of Famer Bob Brown's No. 64 joined Novak's hallowed No. 60 as the only permanently retired numbers at Nebraska. Brown, whose jersey retirement ceremony occurred during Nebraska's game with Colorado in 2004, became the 16th player in Husker history to have his jersey retired.

NU Greats Named to All-Century Team

Nebraska's run of success in the 1990s capped a century of conference and national championships, award-winning players and Hall of Fame coaches in the Husker football program.

Hundreds of great players called Lincoln home in the 20th century, making the selection of a Husker All-Century team a difficult task. Nebraska fans did their best to identify the best of the best from the 1999 football season through April of 2000.

Husker All-Century Team

Offense

QB—Tommie Frazier (1992-95)
 IB—Mike Rozier (1981-83)
 IB—Roger Craig (1979-82)
 FB—Tom Rathman (1983-85)
 FB—Joel Makovicka (1995-98)
 WR—Irving Fryar (1981-83)
 WR—Johnny Rodgers (1970-72)
 TE—Junior Miller (1977-79)
 OT—Bob Newton (1969-70)
 OG—Will Shields (1989-92)
 C—Dave Rimington (1979-82)
 OG/C—Aaron Taylor (1994-97)
 OG—Dean Steinkuhler (1981-83)
 OT—Zach Wiegert (1991-94)

Defense

DE—Grant Wistrom (1994-97)
 DT—Jason Peter (1994-97)
 NT—Rich Glover (1970-72)
 DT—Neil Smith (1985-87)
 DE/OLB—Trev Alberts (1990-93)
 DE/OLB—Broderick Thomas (1985-88)
 LB—Marc Munford (1984-86)
 LB—Ed Stewart (1991-94)
 LB—Tom Novak (1946-49)
 CB—Michael Booker (1994-96)
 CB—Ralph Brown (1996-99)
 S—Mike Brown (1996-99)
 S—Mike Minter (1993-96)

Special Teams

PK—Kris Brown (1995-98)
 P—Jesse Kosch (1994-97)
 KR—Tyrone Hughes (1989-92)
 PR—Johnny Rodgers (1970-72)

Top Vote Getters (Votes):

Offense—Zach Wiegert (7,951)
 Defense—Grant Wistrom (6,990)
 Special Teams—Kris Brown (7,938)
 Overall—Johnny Rodgers (14,467)
 (7,109 - Returns and 7,358 - WR)

The team was selected through an on-line poll at Huskers.com and nearly 10,000 Husker fans took part in the process.

The team is dominated by players from the Huskers' five national championship squads. Linebacker Tom Novak, Nebraska's only four-time all-conference selection, was the lone player chosen who played before the Devaney era. The overall top vote getter was Johnny Rodgers, who received a total of 14,467 votes at two positions (receiver and kick returner). The 1972 Heisman Trophy winner is joined by a star-studded offensive unit that features I-backs Mike Rozier and Roger Craig, fullbacks Joel Makovicka and Tom Rathman, wingback Irving Fryar and tight end Junior Miller. The offense is guided by quarterback Tommie Frazier, who led the Huskers to back-to-back national championships in 1994 and 1995. Frazier won the Johnny Unitas Award as the nation's top quarterback as a senior and had a career record of 33-3 as Nebraska's starting QB. The offensive line features five Outland Trophy winners, including two-time recipient Dave Rimington. Fellow Outland winners Will Shields, Aaron Taylor, Zach Wiegert and Dean Steinkuhler, along with All-American Bob Newton, join Rimington on the offensive front. Wiegert was the top vote-getter on offense, with nearly 8,000 votes.

The defense is led by a talent-laden front line, all first-round NFL Draft picks. Defensive tackles Jason Peter and Neil Smith and middle guard Rich Glover comprise the interior of the all-time Husker defense while pass rushing specialists Grant Wistrom, Trev Alberts and Broderick Thomas man the outside positions of the defensive line. A pair of run-stoppers join Novak on the linebacker corps, as Marc Munford and Ed Stewart were selected by Husker fans. Munford led Nebraska in tackles for three consecutive seasons (1984-86), while Stewart was a finalist for the Butkus Award in 1994. The secondary is made up of players from the 1990s, including 1999 All-Americans Mike Brown and Ralph Brown, the top vote getters at safety and cornerback, respectively. The duo is joined by cornerback Michael Booker and rover Mike Minter, a pair of defensive standouts on Nebraska's 1994 and 1995 national title teams. Wistrom was the top vote getter among defensive players with almost 7,000 votes cast.

Kris Brown was chosen as the starting kicker after he set the school record with 388 points from 1995 to 1998. Jesse Kosch earned the nod as NU's top punter, and the final member of the team is kick returner Tyrone Hughes.

The Fence. The Fence.

In the nearly two decades that Quality's been building fences, we've built quite a fan base as well. By insisting on only the best materials and building standards, Quality Fence has maintained a better than 95% satisfaction rating among our thousands of customers. One of the national industry's highest.

The best team in the country right here in our own back yard? Yup.

In Nebraska, anything less just wouldn't stand up.

In Pursuit of Excellence

For decades fans have shown support for Husker athletics by attending games and rallying behind teams, no matter the sport. Husker fans have earned the well-deserved name of the "Greatest Fans in College Athletics."

Much of that greatness can be seen in the respect Nebraska fans show opposing teams and their supporters. It also rings true each year as Husker fans work hand-in-hand with the athletic development office to help Nebraska and its student-athletes remain at the forefront of the collegiate athletic world.

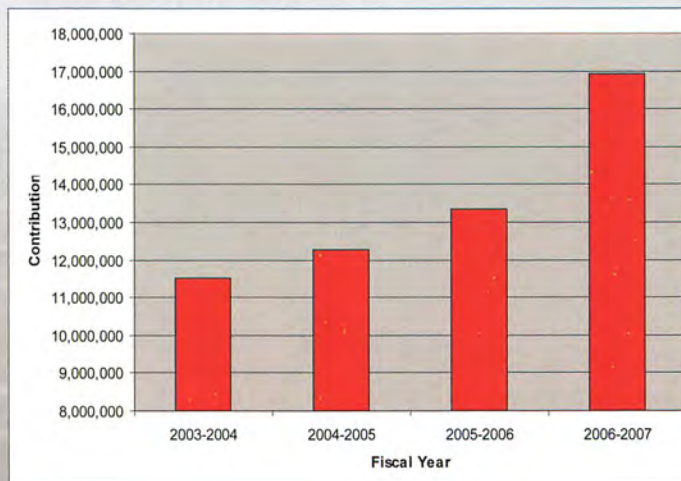

The athletic development team drives the fund-raising efforts that help offset costs of scholarships for more than 400 student-athletes each year. Financial support from Husker fans around the country is crucial to Nebraska's success. Nebraska is one of the few NCAA Division I athletic programs in the country that receives no state funds or university fees, while supporting an athletic department budget of just over $70 million that covers 23 varsity sports.

If you would like more information on the athletic development office and ways you can support the Huskers, contact:

Annual Fund Contributions

Nebraska has seen significant growth in the area of annual donors to the Athletic Department and its 18 booster clubs in the past five years. Annual donations have increased nearly 55 percent since 2003. In 2003-04, 9,521 donors gave a total of $11.5 million to the athletic department and in 2006-07, those numbers rose to 13,000 donors giving a total of $16.9 million.

Husker Nation Championship Drive

The Nebraska Athletic Department is dedicated excellence in the pursuit of championships in all sports, with an added emphasis on continuing the long-standing winning tradition of Husker Football. In an effort to bring home more championships, the Athletic Department embarked on a mission in November of 2003 to build the finest training facility in collegiate athletics.

Thanks to generous contributions from Nebraska donors, the Hawks Championship Center, Tom and Nancy Osborne Athletic Complex, Charles & Romona Myers Performance Center and Gass Family Practice fields opened as a great success according to coaches, student-athletes and recruits.

Athletic Director Steve Pederson set a goal of raising $40 million when announcing the project in 2003, and in less than five years, the Athletic Department is just $9 million from its goal after having raised $31 million (as of July) – nearly 80 percent of its original goal.

In an effort to recognize the contributions of donors to this most-important project, the Husker Nation Championship Wall is on display in the lobby of the Tom and Nancy Osborne Athletic. The name of every donor who gave at least $100 is proudly etched into the wall as a permanent reminder that the project would never have been completed without the generous support of the Greatest Fans in College Athletics.

The Devaney Society

Achieving greatness in both the classroom and on the playing field has long been a goal of the University of Nebraska. Our nation-leading 252 academic All-Americans and 23 team national titles reflect the manner in which we strive to achieve to the highest level.

Rising costs have made funding these athletic scholarships increasingly difficult. To help offset the expenses, the University of Nebraska established an athletic scholarship endowment fund to honor Hall of Fame Football Coach Bob Devaney. For his tenacious commitment to hard work and success, we honor Coach Devaney with our commitment to establish an endowment to fund athletic scholarships at the University of Nebraska. We are sincerely grateful to those who committed to our future stability by establishing a Devaney Society Scholarship for male or female student-athletes.

Chiropractic...

It isn't just for athletes...everyone should use it!

Put yourself in the healing hands of a Chiropractor

CHIROPRACTIC:

- Is effective in the treatment of various conditions including low back pain, headaches, neck pain, and whiplash.
- Is used to treat conditions involving the extremities.
- Is safe and effective for people of all ages.
- Is often more cost effective than other forms of treatment.
- Should be considered in cases of Workman's Compensation injuries. You have the right to choose Chiropractic care if you are injured on the job.
- Is covered by most insurance. If your insurance doesn't cover Chiropractic, talk to your employer.

"With the help of chiropractic care, I was able to endure the physical trauma of the NFL and today, I am pain free and as active as I want to be." – Roger Craig

Nebraska Wheel Club Members

Automobile dealers in Nebraska and Iowa contribute to the University of Nebraska athletic program through the loan of courtesy cars. Like other booster group activities, this project enables the Nebraska Athletic Department to make greater use of its funds. These sports-minded dealers around the state have earned a debt of gratitude from the University of Nebraska Athletic Department and are an important part of the "Husker team."

Patients love our new high-field, open MRI and you will too!

Philips Panorama 1.0T
MRI system

Nebraska's ONLY
High Resolution
Open MRI

Advanced Medical Imaging is able to offer you the most advanced diagnostic imaging technology available in the state of Nebraska.

Our on-site, board-certified Radiologists insure that your doctor receives your report within 24 hours of completing the exam.

Some people worry that getting an MRI scan might be confining and uncomfortable. But with the Philips Panorama 1.0T MRI, the widest, most open high-field MRI system made today, those worries vanish. And while you'll find the Panorama 1.0T comfortable, your doctor will find the image quality unmatched.

Open Design...High-field Performance...Fast Results

What do you get when student-athletes and peer alcohol educators team up?

A strong team of well-trained, dedicated peers who can help Nebraska students make better decisions about alcohol use. Husker Choices involves a three-tiered approach to help Nebraska students make better choices:

- Education about alcohol effects
- Information about norms and standards
- Individualized feedback to students

Husker Choices – A Winning Team!

For more information, call 472-7440 or e-mail
huskerchoices@yahoo.com

Husker Choices is a collaboration between the Nebraska Athletic Department and the University Health Center that uses the influence of student-athletes and other student leaders to reduce alcohol problems among students and student-athletes via effective educational presentations, personalized feedback and information campaigns.

The University of Nebraska-Lincoln

The University of Nebraska-Lincoln is the primary research and doctoral degree-granting institution in Nebraska. As Nebraska's land-grant university, it serves as the flagship institution of the University of Nebraska system. Officially chartered Feb. 15, 1869, the University of Nebraska-Lincoln grew quickly to become one of the nation's leading state universities. With a proud tradition of excellence in research and creative activity, the University of Nebraska was one of the pioneers in research and graduate studies, being the first university west of the Mississippi to form a graduate school and to offer the Ph.D. In 1909, the University of Nebraska became the 18th member of the Association of American Universities.

Today UNL ranks among the top 50 institutions awarding the most doctoral degrees. It is a major research university, ranked in the top 25 among public universities for total endowment assets and new gifts. It is home to top researchers in such areas as plant genomics, remote sensing technologies, molecular virology, bioinformatics, food processing and nanoscale technology.

Consistent with its role as the state's comprehensive institution, UNL offers 140 undergraduate majors and 118 graduate degree programs. With 22,000 students enrolled at UNL, all of Nebraska's 93 counties are represented in the student body, along with students from all 50 states, the District of Columbia, Puerto Rico and 88 foreign countries.

The university comprises eight undergraduate colleges, including Agricultural Sciences and Natural Resources, Architecture, Arts and Sciences, Business Administration, Education and Human Sciences, Engineering, Hixson-Lied College of Fine and Performing Arts, and Journalism and Mass Communications. It also has a division of graduate studies and the College of Law.

A Comprehensive Education Program embodies the ideals of a liberal arts education. The program acquaints all undergraduates with basic research tools and the global human context, and introduces them to an array of academic subject areas. It emphasizes strong written and oral communication skills and critical thinking. A co-curricular component encourages student leadership and involvement in campus activities and in the wider community.

Among the newest buildings on campus are Donald E. Othmer Hall, home to chemical engineering facilities, and the Esther L. Kauffman Academic Residential Center, home to the J.D. Edwards Honors Program in Computer Science and Management. The new Van Brunt Visitors Center and the Mary Riepma Ross Media Arts Center greet campus guests and give graphic arts, new media and film a new home. The Hewitt Center is home to several galleries and the Center for Great Plains Studies, an important interdisciplinary center dedicated to the unique Great Plains region.

Faculty members at UNL have earned wide recognition as scholars and scientists. Professor of English Ted Kooser is a Pulitzer-prize winning poet and was the U.S. Poet Laureate in 2004-06. James Van Etten, professor of plant pathology at UNL, is a member of the National Academy of Sciences. English professor Ken Price is creating an internationally significant Web-based archive of the works of Walt Whitman. Geoscientist David Harwood is leading an international team of scientists drilling beneath the Antarctic ice to recover sedimentary cores to reveal information about Antarctica's climate history and about the global climate machine. Nebraska Center for Virology Director Charles Wood is learning how HIV transmits from infected mothers to children in Zambia.

The new multi-million-dollar Diocles Extreme Light Laboratory and physicist Donald Umstadter are putting UNL at the forefront of international high-field physics and laser research. Diocles will enable UNL physicists to create extreme conditions in the laboratory, similar to those at the core of the sun, to study matter and energy in new ways. The laser also can create significant new technologies such as producing protons for improved cancer treatments or generating x-rays that could detect hidden nuclear materials in steel cargo containers.

The university reaches thousands of citizens across the state each year through outreach activities. The Cooperative Extension Division provides all Nebraskans with information and assistance in agriculture and natural resources, home economics, family living, 4-H and community resource development. An extensive Extended Education and Outreach program offers alternatives to formal on-campus education with Internet courses, summer reading courses, evening classes, independent study by correspondence, telecourses and study tours.

A number of specialized centers offer assistance to the state's citizens. The Food Processing Center has helped hundreds of businesses with everything from product development to marketing, and Technology Development expedites university-developed knowledge into real-world products and processes.

The campus is home to the renowned Sheldon Memorial Art Gallery and Sculpture Garden, the Christlieb Collection of Western Art, the Robert Hillestad Textiles Gallery and several other galleries. The International Quilt Study Center, with more than 1,200 historic quilts in its collection, is housed at UNL, with a new facility under construction. The Lied Center for Performing Arts presents major performing artists, and the University of Nebraska State Museum boasts a world-class fossil collection.

Among the university's renowned alumni are naturalist and author Loren Eiseley; Nobel prize-winners George Beadle, Donald Cram and Alan Heeger; artists Aaron Douglas and Weldon Kees; investor Warren Buffett; comedian Johnny Carson; singer Barbara Hendricks; artist and engineer Harold Edgerton; military officer John J. Pershing; and authors Willa Cather and Mari Sandoz.

TekBots: Coming to a School Near You

By Gillian Klucas, for UNL Office of Research

A bevy of small robots will roll into the nation's schools to help children learn engineering, math, science and technology, thanks to a $3 million National Science Foundation grant to a University of Nebraska-Lincoln computer and electronics engineering team based in Omaha.

The five-year grant for the Silicon Prairie Initiative on Robotics in Information Technology Phase 2, or SPIRIT 2.0, builds on a current NSF-funded program. Developed by a UNL Computer and Electronics Engineering Department team at Omaha's Peter Kiewit Institute, SPIRIT is the brainchild of Bing Chen, chair of computer and electronics engineering. Chen is leading development of this robotics-based curriculum to help teach math, science and technology to the nation's school children.

Since the original NSF-funded SPIRIT program began in 2006, UNL engineers at PKI and University of Nebraska at Omaha education faculty have partnered with Omaha Public Schools to launch a program in Omaha's middle schools. The UNL-UNO team trained math and science teachers in fifth through eighth grades to build small robots, called TekBots, and then worked with them to develop lessons using TekBots in their classrooms.

"We're taking advantage of 100 teachers who have attended our TekBot workshops to assist us in designing a curriculum that can be distributed on a national basis," Chen said.

Providing expertise in curriculum design and evaluation on the project are Neal Grandgenett and Elliott Ostler of UNO's College of Education and faculty from UNL's College of Education and Human Sciences and Iowa State University.

SPIRIT 2.0 will use the Internet to distribute a flexible series of lessons and technical materials to teachers nationwide. Once trained, they can then use TekBots to create hands-on, interactive lessons that illustrate concepts such as algebraic equations, friction, wireless and computer processing, and electronics.

Teachers must be trained to build and use TekBots, which are raw circuitry and wires on wheels that were invented at Oregon State University. The initial national workshop for teacher training will be in Omaha, but a distance-learning program will be developed to allow more teachers to participate. The team will create an online community where teachers can ask questions and share their own TekBot experiences as well as online diagnostics to help teachers repair a TekBot by plugging it into a computer to link to a computer at PKI.

Students, Chen said, "don't always see the payoff to what they're studying." He thinks that's one reason fewer and fewer American students choose math and science careers. He designed SPIRIT to introduce young people to math and science at an early age and perhaps encourage more of them, particularly underrepresented women and minorities, to choose science and engineering careers.

"First, you have to empower the teachers," Chen said.

Omaha area teachers and their students have responded enthusiastically to the original SPIRIT program and other Nebraska school districts have also participated. The new grant will enable Chen's team to make this interactive and flexible robotics curriculum available nationwide.

Unlike other robotic systems, TekBots can be adapted to many uses.

"It's essentially one platform flexible enough to meet diverse needs," from urban and rural environments to in-school or after-school programs, Chen said. "The lesson models we're developing not only fulfill the needs of grades 5 through 8, but also take into account the background and interests of the teachers."

Teachers can stick to the curricula available online or turn a TekBot into a high-tech gadget by adding components such as video cameras, lasers or remote control circuitry.

"We don't have restrictions on the creativity of the students or the teachers," Chen said. "I expect that in five years we will be truly surprised by the direction some of these teachers go with their students."

UNL officials said the successful partnership among UNL, PKI and the Omaha Public Schools has laid a strong foundation. They are excited about the prospect of using Internet and Web technologies to make these innovative Nebraska-developed learning tools easily accessible to schools nationwide.

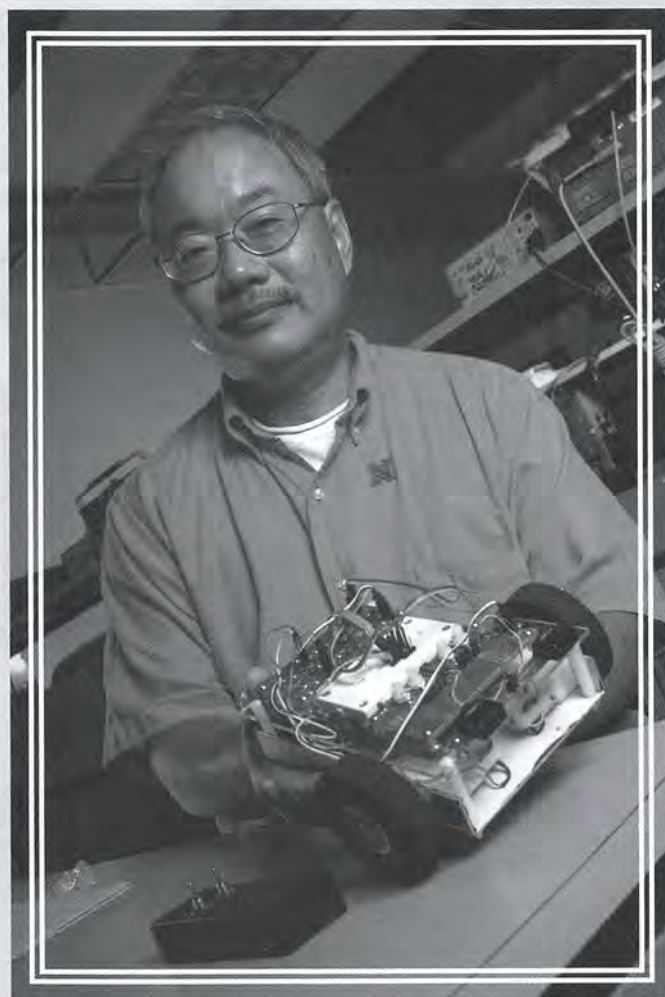

"This project helps UNL contribute to efforts to increase America's talent pool by improving K-12 science and math education," said Harvey Perlman, UNL chancellor.

"Recent national reports suggest that to remain competitive as a nation, we must build on our idea-based economy and promote research. A key strategy is to encourage more young people to pursue interests in science, technology, engineering and math. By building on partnerships with colleagues at UNO and the Omaha Public Schools, this project fulfills that goal."

Prem Paul, UNL vice chancellor for research, said the SPIRIT project "is a prime example of the great things that happen when we collaborate. Thanks to Bing Chen's vision and leadership and building this strong collaboration, we are now positioned to share these innovative learning tools with students in schools nationwide."

David Allen, dean of UNL's College of Engineering, said he expects Nebraska to benefit from this collaboration for years to come.

"Bing Chen is pioneering a growing partnership between the UNL College of Engineering and the K-12 teaching community in Nebraska. His work ... promises to have a major impact on the future of education in the technical disciplines in our state. As teachers learn more about what we have to offer, they will in turn pass that knowledge on to future college students, ensuring a bright future for the technological base in Nebraska."

Peak Performers

A quick look at Husker successes on the playing field and in the classroom

Christina Houghtelling, Volleyball

After suffering an injury that put her on the sideline for the Huskers' 2006 national championship run, senior Christina Houghtelling is back in a big way for Nebraska this season.

The Cambridge, Neb., native ended last weekend with 70 kills on the season to rank third on the team behind Sarah Pavan (111) and Jordan Larson (84). However, Houghtelling has been even more dominant defensively, as she led the team with 84 digs.

In last weekend's Husker hosted Ameritas Challenge, Houghtelling was voted the tournament most-valuable player after averaging 4.17 kills per game on .535 hitting and 3.00 digs per game. Houghtelling led the Huskers to the title with a win over New Mexico State with a season-high 15 kills in the championship match.

Sari Raber, Soccer

Junior Sari Raber entered 2007 as one of Nebraska's most experienced players and has taken to her new leadership role quickly. In three games Raber scored two goals helping the Huskers to a 2-0-1 record to start the season.

Raber's two goals doubled her career total to four and with her four career assists, the Richmond, British Columbia native now has 12 points in her Husker career.

A member of the Canadian National Team, Raber came to Nebraska in 2004, but still has two years of eligibility remaining after receiving a medical redshirt in 2005 due to injury. Despite missing a season on the field, Raber continued to excel in the classroom and is currently a six-time member of the Big 12 Commissioner's Honor Roll.

Rachel Carrizales, Women's Cross Country

Sophomore Rachel Carrizales helped the Husker women's cross country team open the 2007 season on a high note on Sept. 1, finishing third individually and helping NU to a first-place team finish at Chalco Hills.

Carrizales did not run in 2006 because of medical reasons, but instead received a redshirt and was able to return to running during the outdoor track and field season. The down time did the Morrill, Neb., native good, as she became Nebraska's leading runner in the 3,000-meter steeplechase, and qualified for the NCAA Championships in the event.

Carrizales turned in a time of 19:09, the best of her career, at Chalco Hills to open the year and looks on pace to be a major force for the Huskers this season.

Big 12 Sportsmanship Code

The Big 12 Conference comprises a dozen of America's premier universities, where our future leaders develop. While each institution has unique strengths, our commonalities are apparent in the goals and opportunities of our alumni associations, representing nearly three million alumni worldwide. Our mission and responsibilities center on six basic principles:

1. Implement programs and events that promote the university.
2. Offer continuing education and public service opportunities.
3. Create formal and informal channels of communication with university decision-makers and opinion leaders.
4. Develop programs and events that reinforce the good will and learning experience of university constituents.
5. Socially integrate the university communities.
6. Ensure an appreciation and reverence for an institution's individual histories and traditions.

Following these principles, the leaders of the Big 12 alumni associations will promote good sportsmanship and conduct among our alumni, students and friends through the Spectator Code of Sportsmanship.

Spectator Code of Sportsmanship

1. Recognize intercollegiate athletics as an important part of the student and alumni experience.
2. Credit student-athletes for their commitment to academic and athletic excellence and their efforts to compete within the rules of each sport.
3. Promote the Big 12 athletic conference by upholding high standards of scholarship, competitive performance and spectator behavior.
4. Develop an appreciation for fairness, openness and support of coaches and players.
5. Avoid negative comments and gestures that dishonor the teams, their schools and the Big 12.
6. Support conference partners competing against non-conference opponents.
7. Support and encourage university spirit teams, marching bands and mascots.
8. Respect the athletic history and traditions of each opponent.
9. Treat spectators, players, coaches and officials courteously, win or lose.
10. Apply these standards of sportsmanship and spectator behavior to individual campuses, stadiums and arenas, and encourage alumni to do likewise.

HuskerVision Enhances Fan Experience

Fourteen years ago, the idea of Memorial Stadium becoming the nation's first college football stadium to have big-screen replay boards was being considered. Some people doubted that a college venue could make a project that big a reality, and they wondered if the screens would detract from the game itself.

However, when HuskerVision became a reality in 1994, all of the proposal's critics were silenced. The big-screen replay boards were an instant hit with the fans, enhancing their Husker gameday experience.

With its replay boards, the University of Nebraska became the first college football team in the country to have instant replay boards at a venue used exclusively for college athletics. The only other college stadiums that previously had boards available were those serving as homes to professional football teams.

NU took another step forward during the summer of 2006 with the replacement of the 12-year old video boards with three new screens, including a 33-foot 7 3/16-inch high by 117-foot 7 1/8-inch wide video board atop the new Tom and Nancy Osborne Athletic Complex that is one of the largest in any college stadium in the United States. The two smaller screens on the South end of Memorial Stadium each measure approximately 21-feet high by 24-feet wide and are larger than the old screens.

All three of the new Mitsubishi screens utilize high brightness LED technology, and the north video screen contains 3,670,016 LEDs. The system accepts all graphic and broadcast signals, including HDTV. HuskerVision is capable of running video on the entire active viewing area of the North Stadium screen, and also has the ability to segment the screen in a variety of ways to show live action, statistics, graphics and advertising.

In addition to the obvious advantage of being able to view replays, game action and statistics on three huge screens, HuskerVision has made several other changes to game day at Memorial Stadium.

The most important change was in atmosphere. The screens are a key ingredient to one of the most dramatic team entrances in all of sports. Along with a 30,000-watt sound system, the replay boards help make the "Tunnel Walk" part of the atmosphere of Nebraska football.

HuskerVision's contributions to Memorial Stadium have not gone unnoticed by Nebraska fans. In a survey of season ticket holders, fans mentioned HuskerVision as one of the most worthwhile additions to Memorial Stadium in years.

Like the NU football team, the HuskerVision crew spends the week before a home game developing its own game plan. Starting on Sunday before a home game, the crew produces features for Saturday's game and spends much of the week preparing graphics, player headshots and other clips and features that appear on the boards throughout the game.

Game day is showtime for the HuskerVision crew. On a home Saturday, a dozen staff members work in the control room while five other members of the staff operate cameras on the field. The staff includes Creative Director Kirk Hartman, Chief Engineer Scott Guthrie and Production Specialists Mike Hodges, Brad Colee and Amanda Pohlmann. HuskerVision also utilizes the talents of 35 University of Nebraska broadcast journalism students throughout the year. Director of Technology Shot Kleen oversees the HuskerVision department.

HuskerVision is housed in the Michael Grace Production Studio located on the concourse level of West Stadium, which was made possible by a generous donation from Lloyd and Katherine Wilson in honor of former football player and NU Foundation fund-raiser Michael Grace. In addition, a broadcast quality control room, three non-linear editing rooms and a television production studio allow the HuskerVision staff to produce a multitude of video productions.

Last year, HuskerVision produced television shows, including coaches shows for football, men's and women's basketball, volleyball and baseball.

This season, The Bill Callahan Show will be produced Sunday mornings after each game for a statewide broadcast on Sundays. In addition, The Husker Volleyball Show will also be aired during the fall. During the basketball season, The Doc Sadler and Connie Yori basketball shows will be broadcast on a state-wide basis, while The Mike Anderson baseball show will air in the spring. Both the Callahan and Sadler shows will air nationally (Fox Sports Midwest) throughout the week. Features on all of Nebraska's 23 varsity programs are part of many of these coaches shows.

HuskerVision's duties also include the production of highlight tapes for all 23 varsity sports. Over the past eight years, more than 100,000 highlight tapes have been purchased by NU football fans. In 2002, HuskerVision received two major awards at the IDEA conference, one for "Best Overall Video Display" in the University division and one for "Best Music Video", beating out entries from all levels, including the NBA, NFL and Major League Baseball. The HuskerVision staff earned best display for a second time in three years in 2004, and earned "Best Special Occasion Video" for its season-ending music video for the baseball team.

In 2000, HuskerVision expanded to the Bob Devaney Sports Center. Giant replay boards were installed on the East and West upper ends of the Sports Center and are nearly the same size in terms of square footage as the original smaller screens in Memorial Stadium. The Devaney screens are among the largest indoor boards in the country at 15-feet high and 26-feet wide. The screens are also compatible with HDTV wide-screen format and are part of a 162-foot wide display system on each end of the Devaney Center.

The HuskerVision control room in Memorial Stadium is also used to produce the programming seen on the big screens at the Bob Devaney Sports Center. This is made possible by incorporating a fiber optic network used to send and receive audio and video signals between the two locations.

The Michael Grace Production Studio (top) and new Mitsubishi video board (above) at Memorial Stadium help make HuskerVision the top collegiate video production unit in the country.

A Quick Look at . . . NU Men's Basketball

Sadler Back in Saddle for Second Season at Nebraska

After a solid debut campaign as Nebraska's head coach, Doc Sadler brings the Huskers back to the hardwood for the 2007-08 season looking to help NU return to the postseason for the third time in five years. As always, his goal will be a trip to the NCAA Tournament, where the Huskers last played in 1998.

Sadler guided the Huskers to a 17-14 overall record last season, including a seventh-place tie in the Big 12 standings after NU was picked near the bottom of the pack in the preseason. The 17 wins rank Sadler third among first-year mentors at Nebraska and his season-opening five-game win streak, including a 73-61 victory over No. 20 Creighton, was the longest to open a career at Nebraska in more than eight decades.

In his third year as a Division I head coach, Sadler has been impressive on the sideline as he has averaged nearly 22 wins per year and owns a 65-32 record. Overall, he has won 185 games in eight seasons as head coach between the Division I and junior college ranks.

Maric Returns After Putting Up Impressive Totals

The top returning scorer (18.5 ppg) and rebounder (8.7 rpg) in the Big 12 Conference in 2007-08, Aleks Maric looks to make major improvements in his game for the fourth straight season. Last year Maric became only the second player in NU history to post at least 1,000 points and 600 rebounds before the end of his junior season. He joined former NBA player Dave Hoppen on the exclusive list.

A second-team All-Big 12 performer last year, Maric currently ranks 22nd on the Nebraska career scoring chart with 1,011 points entering his season. He is also eighth (88) on the career blocks chart and ninth (680) on the school's all-time rebound chart.

NU Attacks from Long Range

Nebraska had a strong attack from beyond the arc last season as the Huskers hit 244 3-pointers, the second-highest total in school history. Despite the graduation of 3-point threat Marcus Perry, who led the team with 67 treys, Nebraska expects to see more than its share of bombs connecting in 2007-08.

Returning this year for Coach Doc Sadler are junior Paul Velandar and sophomores Ryan Anderson, Sek Henry and Jay-R Strowbridge, who combined for 122 3-pointers last season. Strowbridge (46.3 percent, 3rd) and Anderson (43.2 percent, 7th) were among the most accurate shooters in Husker history as each posted a percentage that ranked on the NU single-season top-10 chart.

Anderson tied the NU freshman single-game record with seven 3-pointers at Hawaii, one off Cary Cochran's school-record eight treys in 2002, while racking up 29 points against the Rainbows, the second-highest single-game scoring effort by an NU freshman ever.

Newcomers Ready to Step Up

Nebraska has added eight scholarship newcomers for the 2007-08 season. Despite the late start for the coaching staff, Doc Sadler and his assistants signed a group that has been ranked among the top 25 recruiting classes in the country by several publications. Among the recruiting experts that view the newcomers as possible key players in the Big 12 landscape are Bob Gibbons (No. 21 for ESPN.com) and Van Coleman (No. 12 for CSTV.com), two of the most knowledgeable analysts in the nation.

Among the newcomers, four are from the junior college ranks while four come to the Huskers straight from high school. Steve Harley ranks among the most heralded newcomers at Nebraska in years as he earned first-team NJCAA All-America honors last year at South Plains (Texas) College.

Compliance Guidelines for Fans

The University of Nebraska Athletic Department takes great pride in abiding by the National Collegiate Athletic Association (NCAA) and the Big 12 Conference rules and guidelines that govern Division I competition. For the benefit of the many alumni, fans and booster club members who are so active in supporting and assisting the Huskers throughout the year, we would like to remind everyone of a few definitions and rules that apply to all athletic representatives and boosters.

NCAA Principles

Institutional Control

It is the responsibility of the University of Nebraska to control its intercollegiate athletic program in compliance with the rules and regulations of the NCAA.

Responsibility

The University of Nebraska's responsibility for the conduct of its program includes responsibility for the actions of its staff members and for the actions of any other individual, booster or organization engaged in activities promoting the athletic interests of the institution.

Compliance

The University of Nebraska must monitor its program to assure compliance and to identify and report to the NCAA instances in which compliance has not been achieved. An institution found to have violated NCAA rules is subject to disciplinary and corrective actions as determined by the NCAA.

NCAA Definitions

Athletic Representative/Booster

You are considered to be a University of Nebraska athletic representative if you:

- »Are a present or past member of a University of Nebraska booster club or agency that promotes the Huskers' intercollegiate athletic program;
- »Have made financial contributions to the athletic department or to an athletic booster organization of the University of Nebraska;
- »Are, or have been, providing benefits (e.g., summer jobs, meals etc.) to enrolled student-athletes, their family members or friends;
- »Are, or have been involved in any manner of promoting the University of Nebraska intercollegiate athletic program.

Please note: Once an individual is identified as an athletic representative, that person retains that identity indefinitely. The University of Nebraska is ultimately responsible for the acts of all "representatives of athletic interests" in relation to NCAA rules and regulations.

Prospective Student-Athlete

A prospective student-athlete is a student who has started classes for the ninth grade or above, including students in prep schools and junior colleges as well as students who have officially withdrawn from a four-year institution and plan to transfer to another institution. In addition, a student who has not started classes for the ninth grade becomes a prospective student-athlete if the institution or a Nebraska booster provides the individual or the individual's relatives or friends with any financial assistance or benefits that the institution does not provide to prospective students in general. A good rule of thumb is to treat ALL STUDENTS as prospects.

Student-Athlete

A student-athlete is a student whose enrollment was solicited by a member of the Nebraska athletic staff or other representative of athletic interests with a view toward the student's ultimate participation in the intercollegiate athletic program.

Recruiting

Recruiting is any solicitation of a prospect or a prospect's family member (or guardian) by an institutional staff member or by athletic representative of the institution, for the purpose of securing the prospect's enrollment and ultimate participation in Nebraska's intercollegiate athletic program.

Contact

A contact is any face-to-face encounter between a prospect, or the prospect's parent or legal guardian, and a Nebraska staff member or athletic representative during which any dialogue occurs.

Guidelines and Reminders for Boosters

- »A booster may not contact the prospect, prospect's coach, principal or counselor in an attempt to evaluate or recruit the prospect.
- »A booster may not expend funds to entertain or provide transportation for a prospective student-athlete, the prospect's family members or friends.
- »A booster may not become directly or indirectly involved in making arrangements for a prospect, or the prospect's relative or friends to receive money or financial aid of any kind.
- »A booster may not contact a prospective student-athlete through letter writing, e-mail, telephone calling, text messaging, other forms of communication, etc.

However, here are a few ways that a Husker booster may be involved:

- »You may discuss summer employment opportunities with a prospect after he/she has signed a National Letter of Intent with the University of Nebraska.
- »You may attend high school athletic events without contacting prospective student-athletes.
- »You may continue existing friendships with families and friends of prospective student-athletes.
- »You may send recommendation letters, newspaper clippings or similar information about prospective student-athletes to Husker coaches.

Extra Benefit Guidelines and Reminders for Boosters

Extra Benefit

An extra benefit is any special arrangement by a Nebraska employee or an athletic representative to provide a student-athlete or the student-athlete's relative or friend a benefit not expressly authorized by NCAA legislation.

Boosters may not provide any special arrangement considered to be an extra benefit by NCAA definition. Examples of extra benefits include but are not limited to:

- »Providing cash or loans of any amount;
- »Signing or co-signing for a loan or other forms of financial assistance;
- »Providing use of a telephone or calling card to make local or long distance calls;
- »Transporting a student-athlete or providing the use of a vehicle;
- »Providing free or reduced rent housing;
- »Giving gifts of any kind (i.e. birthday, Christmas, Valentine's Day);
- »Promising a student-athlete postgraduate education or employment;
- »Offering free services (i.e. clothing, airline tickets, laundry, car repair, haircuts, restaurant meals);
- »Providing payment to a student-athlete for a booster club speaking engagement;
- »Providing employment for a prospect's relatives or friends.

Here are a few ways that a Husker booster may help:

- »Do invite a student-athlete to participate in non-profit, charitable or educational events, but make sure to contact the compliance office for approval before the event;
- »Do invite a student-athlete into your home for an occasional meal;
- »Do pay a student-athlete the commensurate rate for actual and legitimate employment.

If you choose to assist in any of the ways described above, please contact the compliance office to receive prior approval.

For further information regarding NCAA Guidelines for Athletic Representatives, please contact the athletic compliance office at (402) 472-2042 or 1-(800) 927-7220. Inquiries may also be mailed to: Athletic Compliance Office, West Stadium, P.O. Box 880219, Lincoln, NE, 68588-0219. Questions can also be faxed to (402) 472-4609 or e-mailed to compliance@huskers.com.

Athletic Director Steve Pederson

A nationally recognized advocate for college football, Steve Pederson has spearheaded the efforts to help all Nebraska athletes obtain the highest levels of success in athletics, academics and life since being named his alma mater's 12th athletic director on Dec. 20, 2002.

The past academic year was likely one of the most rewarding for Pederson, as his belief of placing opportunity in the hands of the student-athlete led to exceptional performances in all three areas. No better examples can be found than Sarah Pavan (volleyball) and Dane Todd (football), who each carried a 4.0 grade-point average while competing at the highest level in their sport. After leading Nebraska to its third national title in history, Pavan earned the Honda-Broderick Cup as the nation's top collegiate woman athlete, a first for a Nebraska student-athlete, and was named the University division Academic All-American of the Year across all sports. Todd was a first-team all-conference fullback and two-time academic All-American before earning the prestigious Walter Byers Postgraduate Scholarship, the highest academic scholarship bestowed on athletes by the NCAA.

Pederson's leadership and guidance in the ever-changing world of college athletics has provided benefits for more than just Nebraskans.

On the national level, Pederson's vision to improve football across the college landscape has shown through during his time as chairman of the NCAA Football Issues Committee starting in 2006. He has been a vocal leader in the effort to give football players a fifth year of eligibility and has pursued changes that would allow for an early signing period in football. In May 2007, Pederson also served as the keynote speaker at the NCAA Expert Coaches Academy, which addresses the critical shortage of ethnic minorities in head coaching positions in the sport of college football, primarily at the Division I level.

During his tenure at Nebraska, Pederson has also assisted in shaping the Big 12 Conference's future image. He was a key figure in the renegotiation of the league's television package in 2007, which continues the Big 12's association with ABC/ESPN in football and provides broader exposure to men's basketball coverage while providing greater financial resources for all league schools.

Pederson oversees a fiscally sound athletic department that operates on a budget of just over $70 million. With annual giving at an all-time high, it has given Pederson the chance to push Nebraska to the forefront of the recruiting scene with the addition of world-class facilities.

Pederson's ultimate vision for the Husker Nation Championship Drive came to completion in 2006 when the Tom and Nancy Osborne Athletic Complex was opened in August. Along with the Hawks Championship Indoor Center and new outdoor practice fields as well as the expansion of Memorial Stadium to a capacity of more than 80,000 for the first time in history, the $50 million expansion project provides an impressive support network for Husker athletes.

The new facilities benefit some of the top athletic squads in the country. During the 2006-07 seasons, 17 of Nebraska's 23 varsity sports competed in postseason competition while eight ranked in the national top 25, highlighted by the NU volleyball team winning the 23rd national title in athletic department history.

Pavan wasn't alone in the national spotlight as Amanda Burgoyne earned national player-of-the-year honors while helping the bowling team to a third-place finish at the national tournament. Bowling was one of five Nebraska squads to earn top-10 national team finishes in 2006-07 along with volleyball, rifle (fifth), women's gymnastics (sixth) and men's gymnastics (10th). The wrestling team placed 16th nationally behind the outstanding performance of Paul Donahoe, who became the ninth national champion in program history. Donahoe led 28 Nebraska student-athletes, including 19 underclassmen, who earned 37 All-America certificates last year.

Pederson has pushed the Huskers to uphold their unparalleled tradition and remain at the forefront in the classroom as well as on the field. Last year, nine Cornhuskers earned CoSIDA Academic All-America honors, raising Nebraska's NCAA-leading total to 252, 59 more than the closest school. Over two semesters last year, 525 student-athletes earned Big 12 Commissioner's Honor Roll accolades with a 3.0 or better grade-point average, while 131 Huskers claimed academic All-Big 12 honors and 95 earned their degrees.

Pederson is an award-winning athletic director with experience at four prominent Division I schools. A tireless worker with a contagious winning attitude, Pederson has implemented his vision for the future of Nebraska, which includes three vital components to success: a staff that will outwork the competition; enhancing facilities in order to attract the nation's best student-athletes; and a unified approach to enable student-athletes to succeed in all facets of life.

A firm believer in the philosophy that hard work pays off, Pederson was given his first chance at leading a Division I program when he was hired as athletic director at the University of Pittsburgh in 1996. Pederson is credited with turning around the Pittsburgh athletic program. As a result of his hard work and effective leadership style, Pederson was named the recipient of the 2002 General Robert R. Neyland Athletic Director Award, annually presented by the All-American Football Foundation for outstanding administrative achievement.

Pederson and his wife, Tami, both earned degrees from the University of Nebraska. Steve earned his bachelor's degree from Nebraska in business administration in 1980 and began his career at Nebraska, first as a sports information assistant (1980-81) and then as football recruiting coordinator (1982 to 1986). He returned as the associate athletic director for football operations from 1994 to 1996.

Pederson left the state in 1988 to serve as Ohio State's recruiting coordinator until 1991, then moved on to the University of Tennessee to devote three years as the athletic administrator for football. In three seasons, the Volunteers' recruiting classes were regarded among the nation's top three nationally by several publications.

A native of North Platte, Neb., Pederson has experience in the non-athletic business sector, spending one year as Ak-Sar-Ben's Public Relations Director (1981-82), and two years in private business in Nebraska (1986 to 1988), before returning to college football in 1988 at Ohio State.

Pederson and his wife Tami Osborne Pederson have three children: Mark, Kari and Kristin.

The Pedersons (clockwise from top): Steve, Kari, Tami, Kristin and Mark.

Nebraska Spirit Squad

The Nebraska Spirit Squad's involvement in the community and the athletic department makes it one of the most high-profile programs in the nation. Members of the Spirit Squad include Yell Squad (cheerleaders), Scarlets (dance team) and Lil' Red and Herbie Husker (mascots).

The Spirit Squad consists of 34 Yell Squad members, 14 Scarlets and six mascots. Along with academics and athletic events, Spirit Squad members participate in strength and conditioning workouts, practices and team meetings about 10 hours a week. Last year, the squad made more than 200 philanthropic appearances at community and state events.

Tryouts for the Spirit Squad are held during the spring semester. For more information on the Spirit Squad or to learn about tryouts, visit Huskies.com or call Carrie Vitullo, Spirit Squad Coach, at 402-472-4622.

Hail Varsity

Hail to the team,
The stadium rings as everyone sings,
The scarlet and cream.
Cheer on for victory
Echo your loyalty,
So on mighty men,
The eyes of the land,
Upon every hand are looking at you.
Fight on to victory,
Hail the men of Nebraska U.

There is No Place Like Nebraska

There is no place like Nebraska,
Dear old Nebraska U,
Where the girls are the fairest,
The boys are the squarest,
Of any old place that you knew.
There is no place like Nebraska,
Where they're all true blue,
We'll all stick together in all kinds of weather,
For dear old Nebraska U.

Nebraska Mascots

Breaking Down the Trojans

presented by

USC Has Quite the History

Southern California has been among the elite programs in the nation for decades, and few have seen the type of run the Trojans have made this century after capturing national championships in 2003 and 2004 and five straight Pac-10 titles. The Trojans, who were ranked fourth when the No. 21 Huskers went to Los Angeles last September, took a 28-10 win in the last meeting while on their way to an 11-2 season that included a Rose Bowl win over Michigan.

Booty Making Name For Himself

Senior quarterback John David Booty has filled big shoes left by Carson Palmer and Matt Leinart, throwing for 3,347 yards and 23 touchdowns in 2006. In the season opener against Idaho, Booty was 21-for-32 for 206 yards and three touchdowns. The Blackshirt defense will need another strong effort to slow Booty from matching last year's performance when he threw for 257 yards and three scores, while getting sacked once.

Different but Still the Same

The receiving corps has a new look from last year after losing All-American receivers Steve Smith and Dwayne Jarrett, but it still looks to be one of the most talented corps in the country. In the opener, nine Trojans caught a pass. David Ausberry and Stanley Havili tied for the team lead in catches with five each, while Fred Davis led USC receivers with 49 yards on two catches.

Baker a Quiet Star on Offense

Behind the shadow of John David Booty and a talented receiving corps is arguably the best player on the USC offense in senior offensive tackle Sam Baker. A two-time All-American, Baker has been a large contributor by opening lanes for the Trojan running backs, while providing solid protection for the quarterbacks the past three seasons.

Defense Lives Up to the Billing

The Trojans start six players on defense who are returning Pac-10 honorees. Leading the way are star linebackers Rey Mauluga, who earned first-team All-Pac 10 honors as a true freshman, and Keith Rivers, who led USC in tackles last season with 85 along with 7.5 tackles for loss and three forced fumbles. Sedrick Ellis, a first-team All-American last year, anchors a solid defensive line that returns three of four starters to present one of the toughest fronts in the nation.

In the season opener, the Trojan defense held Idaho to 253 yards of total offense and 14 first downs. Rivers and Taylor Mays led the way with six and five tackles, respectively, although Kyle Moore may have been the most disruptive force on the field. He posted four tackles, including a 12-yard sack, to go with a forced fumble that he recovered and a pass breakup.
